Boat Trio Safe, But Minus Craft

Three men in a boat, reported overdue from a fishing trip out of San Rafael arrived home yesterday—minus the boat.

A search of San Pablo and San Francisco Bays by Coast Guard helicopters were called off at 2:45 p.m. after Curtis Crye, Arthur Judd and Leseberg were reported back safe at their San Francisco homes.

The men said they were fishing in Suisun Bay when the incoming tide Wednesday night swamped their 14-foot skiff. They said they waded ashore Sherman Island, where they spent the night, and were picked up by a passing boat yesterday.

according to national minimum standards, the cities of Marin should own 480 acres of day-use parks... we only own 275.

Youth Who Fled Deputy Nabbed On Embarcadero

Stephen Thomas Lauritsen, 18-year-old transient who fled a sheriff's deputy Monday and was recaptured yesterday, was arraigned in Marin Municipal Court on a felony escape complaint, two counts of burglary, and with auto theft.

Judge Leonard A. Thomas set bail at $5,500.

Lauritsen is accused of escaping from Inspector Bowen Bridges Jr. after being taken to Tamalpais Valley where he promised to reveal a cache of burglary loot, with the April 1 burglary of the home of John A. Henslow, 73 Sunrise Avenue, Mill Valley, and with grand theft and auto theft from Damien Custer, 19 Old Landing Road, Tiburon, on Sunday.

He was re-arrested shortly before noon yesterday at San Francisco's Pier 50 by Bridges, Inspector Marco Melovich, and San Francisco police.

Plea Rejected On Split Lots

An application to split lots at Deer Park, made on behalf of Max Holsinger of London, was turned down last night by the Fairfax Planning Commission.

Commissioner Kenneth Edgar said the application was denied because the lots were too small, and the split would not have met the city slope policy.

The planners approved a six-month use permit for Mrs. Mary Traverso of 63 Manor Road, Fairfax, to sell wood on an empty lot on Broadway.

Mill Valley Promotions Discussed

Eighty-four Mill Valley business men breakfasted together at the Outdoor Art Club today and got a lively start on ideas of how to get more Mill Valley residents to buy at home as well as how to entice "outsiders" in to shop.

Specific suggestions included: More and better parking, better street lighting, a mall, painting and dolling up shops, a cable car on rubber tires to take customers around town, and a hotel.

A promotion campaign was also suggested, as was a questionnaire to find out what people want.

The sponsoring businessmen's committee of the chamber of commerce asked for volunteers to work on an "awakening" program and agreed to meet again soon.

"The aim and purpose of this committee is to promote ways and to encourage and stimulate Mill Valley residents to do more business with their local merchants," said Sam W. Schneider, committee chairman.

Marin Seamen Home On Leave

Two Marin Navy men are home on leave, one after completing recruit training and the other after duty aboard a submarine tender.

Robert G. Gomez, airman apprentice aviation boatswain's mate, son of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel D. Gomez of 311 Molino Avenue, Mill Valley, has completed recruit training at Great Lakes, Ill. After his leave, he will report at the Naval Air Station, Patuxent River, Md.

Ulcer Patients Found Happy, Study Shows

A University of Michigan study of male patients shows that ulcer patients seem to lead happy lives. More of them think of their childhood and adult lives as happy than did a sampling of non-hospitalized persons.

A TOUGH ACT FOR SADECKI TO FOLLOW

Juan's Masterpiece: 14 Innings, 1-0

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "That was my toughest game of the year," admitted San Francisco giants' pitcher Juan Marichal. "It had to be—14 innings and 1-0."

The ace right-hander not only notched is ninth victory without defeat for the National League leaders with the marathon triumph over the Philadelphia Phillies yesterday, but lowered his earned-run verage to 0.59.

Manager Gene Mauch of the visitors was so unhappy with his club's six-hit production and second consecutive one-run loss that he called an extra hour's batting practice for most of his charges after the extra-inning with himself doing most of the pitching.

Mauch sends Larry Jackson (2-5), tonight against efthander Ray Sadecki, the Giants' acquisition from St. Louis. Sadecki has started three times in his new livery and is yet to win since the exchange for Orlando Cepeda.

Marichal contributed a double to the Giants' nine-hit attack. But he was the first to suggest he wouldn't be unhappy if Manager Herman Franks sent up a pinch hitter for him in the 14th after Jimmy davenport tripled and Hal Lanier walked with one out.

"I've been hitting well but I'm not a good hitter," Juan explained. "I didn't want Herman to let me hit and then be sorry for it, so I went to him and told him. I knew Jesus Alou is a good hitter."

On came pinch hitter Bob Barton, a rookie catcher who batted against Knowles in the International League last year. Barton lofted a fly to center and Davenport scored after the catch.

The Phillies lost 2-1 to Los Angeles the night before when the Dodgers scored twice in ninth inning.

"My slider was my best pitch and I used it the most," commented Marichal. "I was tired, but I think I could have gone a few more innings."

In 1963, the hurler from the Dominican Republic had beaten Warren Spahn and the Milwaukee Braves 1-0 in a 16-inning marathon won by a Willie Mays' homer.

This time Mays appeared only as an unsuccessful pinch hitter because he is bothered by a muscle pull suffered Wednesday.

Two great fielding plays by the Giants and one bad one by the Phillies helped Juan this time.

In the ninth, left fielder Len Gabrielson made a running grab of Doug Clemen's drive with a runner on second. in the tenth, Hal Lanier went in back of second for a diving stab of a Tony Gonzalez shot and threw him out while still on the ground.

Davenport's 14th inning hit might have been held to a single if right-fielder John Callison hadn't tried and failed for a diving backhand catch. The ball got through him.

"It was a bad play," he admitted. "I thought I had a chance. If I had even stopped it, he would have reached second at best, and that would have been close."

Mauch decided after the game to put heavy-hitting Richie Allen in left field tonight. The third baseman tore a right shoulder muscle April 29 in a slide at Chicago and has seen only limited pinch-hitting duty since then. Mauch said left would be easier on Allen's arm.

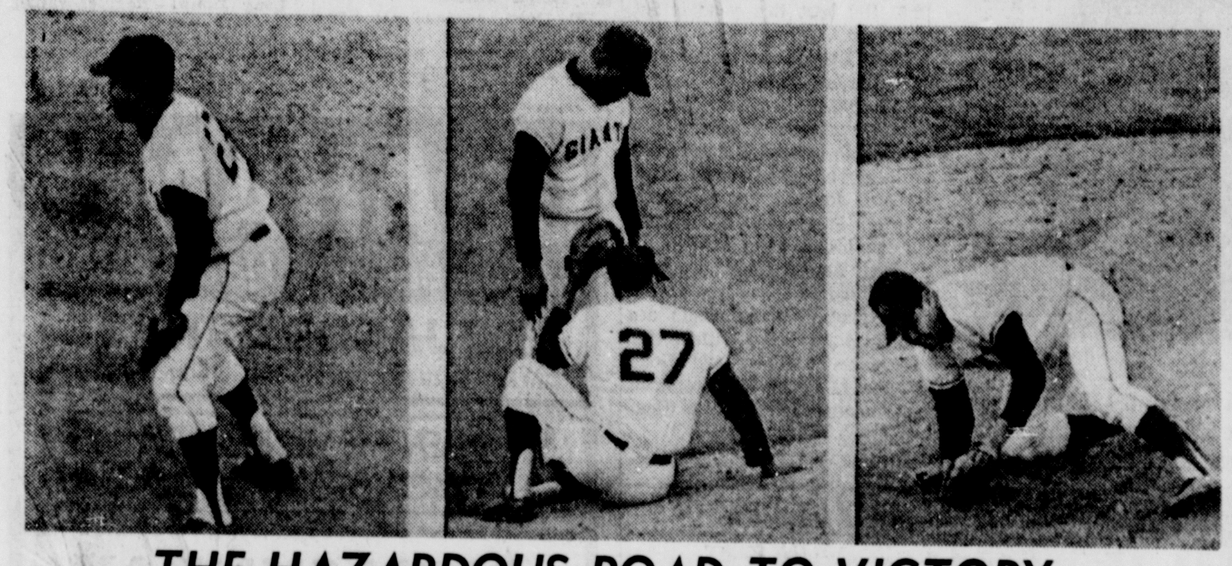
MARIN STAR WILLIAMS SEEKS CAL J. C. TITLE

Ellis Williams, College of Marin's star leaper, will be going for statewide honors tomorrow in the California junior college track and field championships at Modesto College Stadium.

Williams won the Northern California meet broad jump last Saturday with a leap of 24 feet even in the finals, after setting a meet record with a mark of 24-4½ earlier in the trials.

His big competition tomorrow will come from Bob Hanrahan of Long Beach City College, the lad that won the Southern California J.C. meet with a jump of 24-10.

Marin Catholic Wins On Burch's Two-Hitter



THE HAZARDOUS ROAD TO VICTORY

Juan Marichal was brilliant in pitching 14-inning, 1-0 victory for the San Francisco Giants over Philadelphia yesterday at Candlestick, but he had his hazardous moments on the mound: A wild bat almost hit him (left) in 11th inning; he was hit by a batted ball in 12th (center); and had to duck a screaming liner in 12th (right). All this, and he made four assists, too. (UPI telephoto)

It's 2-1 In TOC Thriller

By ROBBIE HARVEY

The Redwood Baseball Tournament of Champions was filled with grandeur for Marin County fans as Marin Catholic High School baseballers, behind righthander Ben Burch's two-hitter, edged Westmoor of Daly City, 2-1, before a high-spirited, standing room crowd of 2,412 at Albert Park, San Rafael.

The marvelous Marin fray was the last of three games played yesterday. Arroyo of the Hayward Athletic League erupted for four runs in the third and went on to shell St. Elizabeth's of the Catholic League, 7-1, in the first game; and Napa, North Bay League representative, rocked Mount Diablo of the Diablo Valley Athletic League by an identical score after leading from the third inning on in a contest which started at 6 p.m.

TONIGHT'S GAMES

Arroyo's Dons will go against Napa in the first of three wars slated for today, starting a 4 p.m. Skyline (16-4) of the Oakland Athletic League vs. Lincoln (17-5) of the Mount Hamilton Athletic League, 6 p.m., with El Cerrito of the Alameda League vs. Monterey (18-6), representative of the Monterey Bay League, scheduled to lock horns in the final battle of the night, 8 o'clock.

Burch, who fanned seven and walked none, had a no-hitter going until the fourth when the Rams tallied their lone run and collected both of their base hits. After Joel Weinberg grounded out, third baseman Rex Arnott clouted a ground-rule double (the ball sticking under the fence) to center, Lee Williams went down swinging and Greg Agar, first baseman and leading Westmoor hitter, tagged a run-scoring, error-aided, singe to right-centerfield putting the Rams on the score-board first, 1-0. Westmoor's fire - balling Charles "Corky" Phelps, who was locked in the superb pitching duel with Burch over the first three and one-third innings, sliced a sharp grounder to Marin Catholic shortstop Bob Lombardi for the final out of the inning.

Phelps whiffed eight and yielded just four hits, while walking but one. But that walk was costly.

MARIN RETALIATES

Wasting no time in the M.C. half of the furth, 'Cat Tony Quadros was issued a free pass, then — taking advantage of Phelps' courtesy—advanced to second on John Komo's fly and came streaking across the plate when Lombardi next drilled a single up the rightfield alley.

Burch, mixing his "junk" well, faced four Rams in the fifth, mowing down slugger Bob Gibbon and second sacker Gonzales by the strikeout route and forcing Grady Proctor into a meager pop up with tantalizing, sharp-breaking curves.

Wildcat Bob Nelson led off the bottom of the fifth with a single and advanced to second on an error. Then Gerry Handlos was hit by a pitched ball and the "home town" rally was on, the girls screaming, the guys yelling even louder, and poor "Corky" knowing why.

WINNING SQUEEZE

The runners each advanced on a sacrifice bunt, and Joe Adams followed with a squeeze bunt, bringing home the decisive run. Quadros, mere seconds behind

SWAP SHOP:

"Psst. Hey, Ray-Baby. Psst. Over here, behind the dirty towels."

"Wha . . . what? Who dat dat goes psst?"

"Well, for cryin' out loud. Sure enough, it IS you, Chubbykins. What's with the dark glasses, trench coat, Humphrey Bogart hat and false whiskers. You on the lam or somethin'?"

"Shhh. Not so loud, Ray-Baby. I'm in the dog house around here. Don't want Hermie to spot me. Gotta talk to you, Ray-Baby. It's important. About the trade."

"YOU MEAN the Cepeda-for-me trade?"

"Exactly, Ray-Baby. People around here are beginning to talk. Especially when I gave up a 40-homer, .300, 100-RBI superstar for a questionable pitcher. Cepeda is hitting like the Green Berets and you're pitching like Orphan Annie."

"AW, GEE, Chubbykins, give me a chance. Just because I've failed in my first three starts is no reason to panic. I told you I was a slow starter."

"Yeh, Ray-Baby, but so was Floyd Patterson."

"Aw, pshaw!"

"Eeek. Don't mention HIM, my $50,000 headache."

"WELL, JUST don't worry 'bout me, Chubbykins. If people poke fun at you, just remind them of some of your other deals. Tell them to look at Sanford, and Manny Mota and Matty Alou and Felipe Alou and Stu Miller and Bill Hands and Randy Hundley and . . ."

"Oh, shut your face, you smartie pants. The only reason I got you was because we desperately needed a southpaw. Hell, the John Birch Society softball team has more left handers than we do. So how about getting me off the hook and at least get through the the first inning tonight against the Phillies, willya. Hmm, Ray-Baby? Pretty please with sugar on it?"

"CALM DOWN, Chubbykins, and I'll clue you in on somethin'. When I came here this month it was printed in black and white that I always had trouble with the Dodgers and the Mets. So who do you start me against? The Dodgers and Mets. Great planning. You shoulda waited a few weeks until after you got past that part of the schedule. Now, I've always been successful against the Phillies. Just you wait and see how I do tonight, Chubbykins. Gonna come out and watch me perform?"

"Hell no, Ray-Baby. I'm goin' over to San Rafael to watch that high school Tournament of Champions. Who knows, I might make a deal."

Controversial Contract Rekindles Pro Grid War

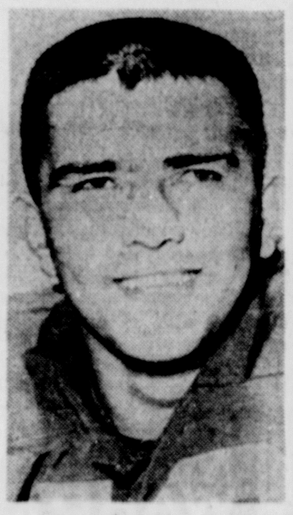
OAKLAND (AP)—Quarterback Roman Gabriel states he belongs to the Los Angeles Rams of the National Football League "for many years to come." But the Oakland Raiders of the American Football League contend he belongs to them starting in 1967.

The Rams announced Thursday they had signed their four-year veteran to a contract through 1967, with an option for 1968.

Hours later, Raiders' General Manager Scotty Stirling announced he'd signed Gabriel Monday in Oakland to a three-year contract, starting in 1967, with an additional one-year option.

Gabriel was not in his Southern California home. But he left a statement with his wife, Suzzane, which said:

"I have signed a contract with the Los Angeles Rams. but I turned down far more lucrative financial offer from the AFL. The Rams are my team and I'm looking forward to a winning season, and I plan to be with the Rams for many years to come."



ROMAN GABRIEL
Ram or Raider?

The twin announcements further stoked the hot war between the two leagues. There have been recent reports that AFL teams were trying to raid NFL clubs in retaliation for the signing of kicker Pete Gogolak by the NFL New York Giants after he played out his option with the AFL Buffalo Bills.

If the Raiders get Gabriel—and they hint they'll go o court to do so—he will be the first NFL star to be wooed away in the current dispute by the younger league. The battle for college stars already has cost both leagues millions.

"We negotiated the agreement in good faith and consider it binding," said Stirling, who did not comment on why the Raiders waited three dyas to announce the signing.

Los Angeles owner Dan Reeves disclosed the terms of his contract with Gabriel and said he talked to the star last night. He wouldn't say what was said but commented that he didn't believe the incident would cause the inter-league rivalry to get hotter.

"I think this is a club problem for the individual clubs concerned," said Reeves.

Last week, AFL clubs reportedly contacted members of the New York Giants and Detroit Lions. But after the Lions signed tackle Alex Karras to a seven-year contract, the furor apparently died own.

One source at the time said the AFL strategy was to sign players with one year to run on their contracts, then question whether the NFL would want them to play in 1966 knowing that they would defect the next year.

Gabriel ell into this category. Professional football contracts generally are for one year with a one-year option.

After an outstanding career at North Carolina State, Gabriel was first draft choice of the Raiders in 1961, but signed with the Rams. This was before Al Davis became the Oakland head coach and general manager. Davis became AFL commissioner after the 1965 season.

Gabriel lost his starting job two years ago to rookie Bill Munson but regained it last year when Munson was injured.

THOSE MARIN 'CATS PLAY LIKE DODGERS

By RALPH CHATOIAN

If they keep playing the kind of ball that thrilled an overflow crowd at Albert Park, the Marin Catholic High School baseball team will have to change its name from the Wildcats to the Dodgers.

Pitching, bunting, running is the name of the game, Marin Catholic style. It is this brand of baseball that Marin Catholic used to become co-champs of the Marin Athletic League and again used last night to nip Westmoor of Daly City, 2-1, in one of the opening games of the Redwood Tournament of Champions.

As was predicted, the game was a pitching duel between Marin's Ben Burch and Westmoor's Charles "Corky" Phelps. The Daly City school had scored a run in the top of the fourth and the Dodg. . .I mean Wildcats, came back with a run to tie it up in their half of the inning. Then came the winning run in the bottom of the fifth.

MARIN LEFTFIELDER Bob Nelson singled up the middle and took a wide turn at first. The relay back from the outfield went to Westmoor shortstop Joel Weinberg who threw behind Nelson to try for the putout at first. The throw sailed over first baseman Greg Agar's head and Nelson scampered to second.

Next batter, Gerry Handlos, was nipped by a pitch, putting runners on first and second. Then came the bunts. Bob Bianchini laid one down to put the runners in scoring position. Joe Adams, Marin Catholic second baseman, dumped a bunt on a squeeze play to score Nelson for the winning run. It was a slow, short bunt and when the play went to first, the streaking Handlos, who was on second, roared around third and tried to score behind Nelson. He almost made it but was thrown out at the plate on a close play. And only the Dodgers can score a man from second on a bunt, but the Wildcats almost did it.

"THAT OVERTHROW really set us up," said Marin coach Gary Hughes. "I was going to have Handlos bunt, but when Nelson ended up on second, I took off the bunt sign." Hughes called that play, plus the fact that Marin came back to tie it up right after Westmoor went ahead in the fourth, the turning points of the game.

The Wildcats will be coming back with southpaw Brian King in tomorrow's semi-final game, with Burch scheduled to start the final game. King will be pitching against the team that wins today's game between Napa and Arroyo. The semi-final game tomorrow will be at 10 a.m. If Marin wins that one, it will play in the championship game at 8 p.m. the same day, and if the 'Cats lose, they'll play a consolation game at 6 p.m.

"BEN FELT really good after last night's game," Hughes said. "He actually didn't throw too many pitches since his control was so good." He didn't walk a man, and according to the scorebook kept by Hughes, whiffed 10 batters.

"That Phelps did a real good job too," said Hughes. "Our book had him with nine strikeouts and just one walk."

Ben's father, Frank Burch Sr., gave his son a rubdown after the game to make sure he'll be in top-flight shape for tomorrow's second game assignment.

HUGHES, WHO is becoming somewhat of an expert on the manly art of coin-flipping, won again last night prior to the game. The managers flipped to see who would be the "home" team and Westmoor mentor Rod Losberger called "tails." It came up heads, just as it did when Hughes flipped odd man with Tamalpais' Al Ahlsten and Novato's Bob Aune, earning the spot in the tournament after the three teams tied for the Marin championship.

San Rafael Undisputed Net Champ

San Rafael High School's tennis team won sole possession of the Marin Athletic League championship yesterday, whipping Novato, 5-0, at Novato.

A loss for San Rafael yesterday would have resulted in a tie for the hotly-contested title as Tamalpais High School's netmen (10-2), clipped Drake, 4-1, yesterday at Tam in another of three league finales. But San Rafael finished with an 11-1 record.

Redwood, dethroned champ after winning the crown two years straight, climaxed its season with a 4-1 victory over the visiting Terra Linda Trojans, earning third place with a commendable 9-3 MAL record.

advantage in a game that you know is going to be close is really a big break," said the happy Marin Catholic coach.

AMONG THE many major league scouts who were on hand at yesterday's games was Carl Hubbell of the San Francisco Giants, who put his name in the record book quite a few times when he was pitching for the New York Giants.

TOURNAMENT DIRECTOR Al Endriss is on the prowl for some portable bleachers after the facilities at Albert Park proved not enough yesterday in the openers.

"We had to rope off sections of the field when all the seats in the stands were taken," said Endriss. He estimated 1,500 fans in the bleachers during that final game, and another two or three hundred on the playing field in the roped off sections.

A total of 3,000 paid admissions for the day was the estimate given by Endriss for all three games. And there's still two days to go. Wow!

El Cerrito will be representing the Alameda Athletic League in the tourney, as a result of final games played yesterday. San Leandro, tied for first with El Cerrito going into the final games, lost to Richmond 6-3 yesterday, giving El Cerrito the league championship.

NATIONAL LEAGUE ROUNDUP

Marichal's Astonishing Record: 9-0 And 0.59 ERA

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

About the only thing Juan Marichal hasn't done yet this season is pitch two shutouts in one day.

But he's working up to it.

The unbeaten San Francisco right-hander was on his way there yesterday, pitching 14 innings before recording his ninth victory and fourth shutout in the Giants' 1-0 triumph over the Philadelphia Phillies.

Marichal has been virtually untouchable this season and surrendered only six hits against the Phillies while striking out 10 and walking only one.

Leading the National League — and the majors — in virtually every pitching department, Marichal's hurling borders on the astonishing when it's broken down into categories:

Hits — Marichal has allowed only 51 hits in 92 innings, the equivalent of a five-hitter for every game he's pitched.

Runs —He has allowed only six earned runs in his 10 starts, has pitched 23 consecutive scoreless innings, has allowed only one run in the last 42 and has given up two runs in only one game this season.

Shutouts — He has pitched four shutouts, two in a row, and has lowered his earned run average to an infinitesimal 0.59.

Walks — He has permitted only eight walks — less than one a game — while striking out 60, a ratio of more than 7 to 1.

And he now has beaten every club in the league at least once with the exception of the Atlanta Braves.

But then he hasn't pitched against them.

Only two other games were played in the National League, Pittsburgh edging Houston 3-2 and St. Louis defeating the Chicago Cubs 3-2.

Manny Mota's third inning homer proved decisive for the Pirates. The victory went to Steve Blass but he needed Pete Mikkelsen's relief help in the eighth inning after Jim Gentile tripled.

Mikkelsen was tagged for a run-scoring double by Lee Maye but eventually got out of a bases-loaded jam by getting Felix Mantilla to hit into a double play.

Cubs' starter Dick Ellsworth took a six-hitter and a 2-0 lead provided by Byron Browne's homer into the ninth inning but the Cardinals came out on top.

Orlando Cepeda singled in the tying run, after an error by Ron Santo had let in the first, and Tim McCarver capped the uprising with a bases-loaded single.

Marin Track Star Seek NCS Laurel

Marin County prep track and field athletes will be going against some of the best performers in Northern California tomorrow at the North Coast Sectional meet at Edwards Field in Berkeley.

Trials are scheduled to start at 9:30 a.m. and the finals at 1 p.m. This is the last qualifying meet for the varsity athletes, with a spot in the California State meet at stake. That state meet will also be held on University of California's Edwards Field.

Dean Lazzarini, Drake's sprinter, made it all the way to the state meet 100 last year as a junior and won fifth place in the big one. Dean was second last Friday at the divisional meet at Santa Rosa, running a 9.8. His best this year is 9.6, however.

Ken Blasingame and Honor Jackson of Tamalpais have a good chance tomorrow. Blasingame won the divisional 120-yard high hurdles last Saturday with a 14.5, good for a school record. Jackson was second in the 180 lows (19.8) and second in the broad jump (22-7¾).

Other second place boys from Marin last Saturday who have a good shot at some points are weight stars Garry Wittenmeier of Marin Catholic and Doug Manuel of Drake, and Redwood pole vaulter Jeff Hicks of Redwood.

Wittenmeier was second last Saturday with a discus heave of 154-8 and Manuel tossed the shot 54-6½ for another second. Hicks climbed 12-7 to tie the meet record in the pole vault, but had to settle for second place because of more misses.

Among the Class B stars who will be competing in their last meet of the year will be Tam's Malcolm Collier and Alan Lee. Collier was second in the 1320 with a time of 3:13.6 last Saturday, after competing throughout the year as a varsity miler. Lee won the 100 in 10 flat and was second in the 220, 22.6.

Prospects Are Very Good For Striper Fishing In San Pablo Bay

STEVENS

We are fast approaching the period of the year when large stripers will be scarce, and the undersized and baby bass will take over. I speak mainly of the back country areas. Historically, thousands of small bass contest the catfish and panfish for the baits we offer, during June, July, and August—at times even well into September and the beginning of October. Then a fresh run of stripers will come out of the ocean on their way to the spawning grounds.

BACK COUNTRY anglers will try for cats, perch and black bass, and will occasionally hook a striper of weight, mostly by accident. Always there are a few lunker bass that are satisfied to rest up after the main schools have gone back to sea. That is when we will hear of someone catching a very large striper on catfish hooks.

Regarding the striper fishing in the delta for the next few months, Ben Shintaku, our faithful reporter on striper action in the back country, puts it succinctly: "—so I think the run of spring stripers is just about over. For one more week I'll report on fishing conditions in the Delta and wind up until fall runs start in mid-September or in early October."

BEN CLOSES his letter with a note of optimism, saying: "Louis Patrick just called to say he and Tony Cubral trolled in the S. J. on Bradfordside and both took limits to 18 pounds." So it seems there are still few stripers around yet. Louie Patrick is perhaps the most knowledgeable troller extant. When there are only a few bass in his area, you can bet Louie Patrick will get 'em by trolling a redhead plug and a jig.

Now, don't get me wrong. Bass fishing in the Delta will undoubtedly taper off but there will be good bait fishing for cats and perch and a goodly number of black bass will furnish thrills galore.

AS REGARDS prospects of taking a striper on artificials in the upper San Pablo Bay, according to Carl Bennett of the Rodeo Marina, prospects could hardly be better, and the method of taking them makes for thrills a plenty. Trolling — mainly by skiff — is done with no sinker and using a Pet Spoon, a small Duraflash or a Big Daddy with porkrind tail baits. The fish are all fresh runners and hit like a fish twice their actual size (6 to 8 lbs.) Carl himself mentioned that he has gone out several times during the present run and has limited each time in less than two hours. Carl and his wife were out Tuesday night and took easy limits. Carl and his wife were out Tuesday night and took easy limits. Carl also limited in an hour-and-a-half Wednesday morning.

NIGHT TROLLING (from around 5 p.m. to quitting time) is also good from party boats out of Dowrelio's Crockett Harbor. In case you fish from a skiff sans sinker, remember to vary the speed of your boat, and you and your passengers should dip your rod deep in the water when making a turn. If possible steer a zig zag course.

SHOW IN SAN ANSELMO

Here's How They TV Indy 500 Auto Race

Hundreds of skilled Bell System craftsmen will be on the job May 30 helping to speed the live, closed-circuit television coverage of the Indianapolis 500 Auto Race across the country.

Their efforts will be seen on the screen of the Tamalpais Theater in San Anselmo which will feature the closed circuit TV race. Tickets, priced at $6 apiece, are on sale at all Marin County theater box offices.

The completed arrangements involve the permanent Bell System microwave network as well as temporary facilities set up to film the Memorial Day Speedway Classic, according to Troy Lewis, Pacific Telephone's Northern Marin Manager.

Here's how it works:

Television cameras record action at the Indianapolis Speedway. These pictures are transmitted by portable microwave to a telephone company equipment office in Indianapolis. From there it is beamed by microwave to Terra Haute, Indiana, and then to the telephone company's television operating center in Chicago for network transmission.

RELAY STATIONS

From Chicago via a series of permanent microwave relay stations across the county the telecast is transmitted to the West Coast television operating center in Los Angeles.

Throughout the transmission process, telephone company technicians monitor both the audio and video portions of the program for quality.

The telecast then is beamed northward via a series of microwave relay stations to a telephone company microwave tower in the East Bay hills behind the University of California campus.

VIDEO CABLE

Microwave antennas atop the PT&T headquarters building at 140 New Montgomery St. in San Francisco then pick up the signal and transmit it by video cable to the company's television operating center at 333 Grant Avenue in the city. There the quality of transmission is again checked and the program is beamed back to "140" and picked up on portable microwave dishes for transmission to Mt. Tamalpais, the highest point in Marin County.

From there is is transmitted to the roof of the Tamalpais Theater where additional portable facilities have been set up. It is then sent by cable to a control unit in the theater and then to the projection booth.

Similar arrangements have been set up for closed circuit broadcasting of the auto classic to seven other points in the Bay Area.

Greenbrae Man Wins Top Hunting Prize

James E. Egger of Greenbrae has won first place in the 1965 Boone and Crockett competition for shooting an Alaska Yukon moose last September in the Alaska range near Mount McKinley.

The award was given by the Boone and Crockett Club, founded by former President Theodore Roosevelt, and includes a medal and a certificate.

Egger, who placed 14th in the all time world records for the moose, said width of the moose's horns was a spread of 70 inches.

The head and horns of the animal will be mounted, according to Egger, who said he shot the moose while hunting with Dick Varney of Mill Valley. Varney also shot a moose on the hunt.

The club's purposes are to promote manly sport with a rifle among large game of the wilderness, to work for game and forest preservation and for travel and exploration.

General Dean To Talk At Memorial Day Rite

A Memorial Day observance, featuring an address by Maj. Gen. William F. Dean (Army retired), will start at 10:30 a.m. Monday at the San Rafael courthouse with a concert by the Fourth Air Force Band from Hamilton Air Force Base.

There also will be a massing of colors at the courthouse square, reported Francis W. Mosher Jr., chairman of the observance.

General Dean, Korean War hero and holder of the Congressional Medal of Honor, will speak shortly after 11 a.m.

When the band concert ends at 11 a.m., there will be a call to attention by a bugler from San Rafael Military Academy; invocation by Rev. Wesley C. Baker, minister of the First Presbyterian Church of San Rafael, and introduction of guests by Mosher, of the American Legion, and Aubrey Mahaney of the Fleet Reserve Assn.

Then General Dean will speak. After his talk, veteran, fraternal and service organizations will present floral offerings at the doughboy statue in front of the courthouse.

Rev. Thomas J. Kennedy, pastor of St. Raphael's Church of San Rafael, will give the benediction, and the firing squad of Company M, Third Battalion, 23rd Marines, Marine Corps Reserve, will fire a salute.

Then the color guard will go to the monument at City Hall in tribute to all citizens who served in the Armed Forces.

The program was arranged by the Marin County Veterans and Auxiliaries Memorial Committee.

Organizations represented by the memorial committee are Spanish-American War Veterans, Marin Veterans of Foreign Wars, Marin American Legion, Marin Disabled American Veterans, Marin Veterans of World War I, Marin County Retired Officers Assn., Marin County Fleet Reserve Assn., Gold Star Mothers and Boy Scouts.

You Don't Have To Guess —This McGee Is A Fibber

He lets his fingers do the walking, the chief said, through the classified advertising pages of newspapers.

When he has found the object he wants, he calls the advertiser at home, announces himself as Frank McGee, and inquires when he can come to examine the merchandise. In doing so, he finds out when the advertiser will not be home.

A case in point, the chief said, is that of Jane B. Stevick of 101 Magnolia Avenue, Larkspur, who had a call from "McGee" Tuesday about the $400 color television set she wanted to sell.

She told him she would be out yesterday morning, but he could see the set that afternoon. When she returned late in the morning, the set was gone — through an unlocked kitchen door. "Mr. McGee" never came around that afternoon.

Verona Masoni of 109 Corte Ramon, Larkspur, also had a call from "Mr. McGee," when she was trying to sell a $500 guitar March 30. She said he could see the guitar when se returned that evening. When she returned, the instrument was gone. "Mr. McGee" never kept his appointment.

Frozen Meat Taken

Patricia F. Kalitsch told San Rafael police Wednesday that 50 pounds of assorted meats had been stolen from a freezer in the basement of her home at 1732 Lincoln Avenue.

Supervisors Nod To More Powerful Poverty War Unit

Committee Representation Questioned, Then Approved

Three Marin county supervisors, meeting with Marin's War on Poverty committee, agreed last night to give up much of their control.

Members of the Community Action Committee of Marin City and the county-wide advisory committee for the War on Poverty met at the Civic Center with Supervisors Peter H. Behr, Ernest N. Kettenhofen and Byron W. Leydecker.

Supervisors William A. Gnoss and Thomas T. Storer, both making campaign appearances, were not present.

The joint proposal by the committees, accepted after considerable questioning by supervisors, was that a nonprofit corporation be formed to be known as the Marin County Economic Opportunity Council. I would be run by a group of 31 and replace the present county-wide committee.

Douglas J. Quiett, acting director of community relations services for the county and head of the War on Poverty staff, told supervisors such nonprofit corporations are running the war on poverty in San Francisco and several other counties.

'CLEANER LINES'

Florence Scott of the Marin Council of Community Services, a member of the advisory committee, said the plan would establish "clearer lines of communication." Supervisors would still retain veto power on any programs calling for 10 per cent of county tax fund contributions.

Responsibility for Marin's program has not been clear. Supervisors, by controlling the department of social services which has been the applicant agency, have felt they had control. But Quiett explained that it is the intent of the program that those governing it be those who are most involved with poverty and in the fight against it.

NO POLITICS

Kettenhofen asked if the proposal was prompted by the hope the War on Poverty would be removed from politics.

"That's it precisely," said John Gardenhire, a member of the advisory committee representing the Congress of Racial Equality.

"If you want to get the board of supervisors out of this, that's fine with me," Supervisor Leydecker said, "but I don't think it's necessary."

Behr said the change would just be a move from "one political arena to another." He repeatedly questioned the suggestion that the proposed committee for the corporation have 16 from the target area, outnumbering the 15 agency representatives.

NEW TARGET

Arthur L. Brown, chairman of the advisory committee, and others explained that new target areas will be developed and as this happens the 16 members will be changed so that each area has equal representation.

Members of both committees agreed that by-laws should be prepared and reviewed by an attorney before further steps are taken.

County Administrator Alan Bruce said he would like to see the change take place July 1.

Tempers grew shorter later in the evening when Quiett made a bid for a temporary program developer at $700 a month and a temporary half-time accountant at $325 a month. He also asked that his acting assistant, Mrs. Beatrice Duke, receive a raise from $486 to $650 a month.

Leydecker said the request came without enough preparation and not through normal channels. But the board, after considerable discussion, approved them.

Nearly All Stores To Be Shut Monday

Merchants, businessmen and workers on all levels of government will take the day off Monday to celebrate Memorial Day, a state and national holiday.

All schools will be closed, as will be every city hall and all offices at the county courthouse and Civic Center.

Most stores, banks and supermarkets will not be open. Neither will the Marin Blood Center in San Rafael.

Motorists will be able to park without feeding meters in Mill Valley and San Rafael, but in Sausalito—as every other day of the year—those who fail to put in coins will be ticketed.

The Independent-Journal will publish as usual.

Smoking Banned By Transit Board

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Directors of the Bay Area Rapid Transit System approved a no-smoking policy inside the cars yesterday and adopted policies limiting advertisements.

The directors pointed out that smoking inside the cars would damage the carpets and other furnishings, raise maintenance costs and require installation of a more expensive air recycling system.

They noted that the U.S. surgeon General has said that smoking is a health hazard and pointed out that the San Fracisco, Berkeley and Oakland fire chiefs had requested the no-smoking rule.

NO BALLOT ERROR

Two Sparrows Chirp Cheerfully For Novato High Student Votes

Sue Sparrow may be elected as two of Novato High School's four fall term yell leaders in student balloting today.

That's right.

One of them is Marguerite Sue Sparrow, a sophomore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sparrow of 475 Rowland Boulevard. The other is her cousin, Barbara Sue Sparrow, a junior, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Sparrow of 1386 Cambridge Street.

Both go by the name of Sue. Their names appear on the student ballot as Sue Sparrow (sophomore) and Sue Sparrow (junior). So if the students know which is what, they may know for whom they're voting.

There were 15 candidates for the song leader team, but of them, seven were to be elected. The 15 are: Tina Brinkerhoff, Nanci Bristowe, Sherri Dimmick, Ginni Espagnolle, Jolene Federick, Barbara Forslund, Cyndie Hasen, Shaula Jacobson, Pat Jones, Pat McDonough, Kerry Onderdonk, Judy Purdy, Linda Schlosser, Bonnie Wilson, and Keri Wisgerhof.

But, although many want to be yell and song leaders, there was no competition for student body president, secretary, and six student commissioners.

Only other school-wide office being contested was vice president, with Mark Meyers and Bill Orchard as the candidates.

Unopposed were Gary Miller for president; Joanne Fagnani for secretary, and the following commissioner candidates: Jim Kidder, justice; Pam Bugge, internal affairs; Donna Briggs, student activities; Linda Gilmore, public relations; Larry Stewart, athletics and awards, and Judie Fleming, finance.

Seniors, Curtiss Kim unopposed for president; Barbara Weber and Gay Young for vice president; Joanne Angeloni and Yvonne Larin for secretary; Carolyn Clark and Judy Forsman for treasurer.

Juniors: Lynette Bobo and Sherry Vandenbroek for president, Trudy Berger unopposed for vice president; Barbara Forslund and Sandy Henry for secretary; John Maddox, Julie Salmina and Kim Rombach for treasurer.

Sophomores: Ken Donaldson and Greg Rockwell for president; Kim Conrad and Roxanne Wilkinson for vice president; Dede Alberg and Dianna Halpenny for secretary; Marcy Eisenhauer unopposed for treasurer.

State Officials, Newsmen Remember Justus Craemer

Tributes to the memory of Justus F. Craemer, chairman of the board of California Newspapers Inc., who died Wednesday, poured in today from state and national officials as well as fellow newspapermen.

Many others attended the funeral this afternoon at the Trinity Lutheran Church in San Rafael.

In Sacramento, state legislators passed a resolution expressing deep regret at Craemer's passing and extending condolences to his family. The resolution, co-authored by Sen. John F. McCarthy and Assemblyman William T. Bagley, both of San Rafael, described Craemer as "a public-spirited and civic-minded citizen whose superlative ability, constant attention to work, high concern for public service and journalism, and engaging personality won him the praise of all Californians."

Among the tributes, by telegram and letter, were these:

"California has lost a great and gallant son," said Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., "whose unbounded energies were successfully devoted to building our state."

"His name will always be linked with the history of California journalism, of which he was one of the giants," said Paul Manolis, executive editor of the Oakland Tribune.

"The people of Marin County and the state of California," said Rep. Donald H. Clausen, R-First Dist., "have lost an extraordinary gentleman. We all admired and respected him for his unselfish devotion and service to an appreciative public."

"He leaves in the hearts of all of us the real meaning of a

Gemini Launching Delayed One Day

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —The Gemini 9rendezvous and space walk flight today was postponed one day, until next Wednesday, to give a launch team more time to prepare an Atlas target rocket.

The launching of the Atlas and the Titan 2 carrying astronauts Thomas P. Stafford and Eugene A. Cernan had been set for Tuesday morning.

But the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said today that the Atlas launch crew was on a tight schedule and needed additional time to prepare the rocket. Reports were that the work on the pad was 24 hours behind schedule.

Tracer Bullets Stop Wild Saigon Rioting

Ky, Ousted General In Huddle

SAIGON (UPI) — Government rangers and marines fired tracer bullets over the heads of rampaging Buddhist monks and students tonight, sending anti-government demonstrators fleeing in panic and breaking the back of a wild 15-hour demonstration.

Premier Nguyen Cao Ky met in Chu Lai today with his arch-rival, Lt. Gen. Nguyen Chanh Thi, leader of the rebellious five northern provinces, and said later Thi "is not against me." But the United States began evacuating civilian personnel from Thi's headquarters city of Hue.

TEAR GAS FAILS

Riot police and troops had battled Buddhist demonstrators throughout the day with tear gas but it failed to halt the demonstrators who gleefully burned the premier in effigy as they hurled stones and two-inch squares of steel against the troops, in Saigon.

The tracer bullets raced through the sky like a Fourth of July fireworks display. Youngsters ran screaming into the night, dropping their torches and banners. Buddhist monks, whose timetable planning and banner-waving oratory led the faithful in holy war fervor, gathered up their robes and ran back to the Vien Hoa Dao pagoda.

STORM ADDS TERROR

Almost as on cue, thunder from the monsoon clouds rolled across the Saigon sky, heaping terror upon terror.

This correspondent saw real fear in the faces of the crowd. They had been grinning, laughing, sneering moments before. The tracers in the sky changed that. Terror took over. It was the same tactic New York City police used on a hot night in 1964 to break up the Harlem riots. It worked well in Saigon tonight.

Ky conferred for two hours at Chu Lai with General Tri whose ouster by the Premier last month touched off the current political crisis. Ky flew back to Da Nang where he crushed a rebel rebellion last week with force.

"Thi told me he is still my best friend," Ky told newsmen. "He told me he is not against me."

Reporters asked Ky if he

Bay Pollution Kills 6,000 Fish

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—More than 6,000 stripped bass have been killed in San Pablo Bay, probably by chemicals discharged from the Union Oil Co. refinery at Rodeo.

The Department of Fish and Game said yesterday the poison flowed into the bay when an automatic alarm system at the refinery indicated a breakdown in a lube oil treating unit.

The agency advised fishermen not to eat fish found dead but if the fish was alive when caught, it would not be harmful to a human.

Course Of Bullet Told Slaying Trial

By ROBERT STREBEIGH

The fatal bullet—one of two to pass through Mario Ferrari's body—entered his back below the right shoulder blade and exited in front where the neck joins the chest.

That was the testimony today of Dr. John H. Manwaring concerning the Mission Inn slaying last Labor Day, for which Mark C. Osuna, 30, and Jack R. Gorman, 36, are on trial in Marin Superior Court.

Manwaring, a pathologist who told the court he has performed "in excess of 10,000 autopsies in Marin County," said a second bullet hit the 52-year-old bartender just above the buttocks and exited in front, shattering the pubic bone.

A .22-caliber single-action pistol figured prominently in earlier testimony by Leo Albertoni, co-owner of the inn. He said it had been carried by the "blondish" gunman whom he identified in court as Osuna.

Albertoni also testified that this .22-caliber gun was substituted by the gunman for a .32-caliber automatic by Osuna found at the inn.

More Ballot Mix-Ups Are Revealed

A second mix-up in mailing of sample ballots for the June 7 primaries, with at least nine registered Republicans receiving Democratic ballots, was revealed today.

Asst. County Clerk John F. Musser, who heads the election department, declared, however, that all nine live in the same area in which the first erroneous ballots were mailed. He said all will be mailed corrected ballots.

EIGHT OTHER

The error came to light with report today to the Independent-Journal by Mark Messetta, 22 Sonora Way, Corte Madera, that although he is a registered Republican, he received a Democratic sample ballot.

Musser said Messetta eight other residents of Paradise Estates in Corte Madera informed his office of the identical mistake.

Musser added he was virtually certain only the nine voters were involved.

He called it impossible to determine where the foul-up occurred.

ANOTHER DISTRICT

He said he did not mention yesterday "because we didn't know the extent of it."

About 3,000 Republican sample ballots containing a page showing candidates for Republican Central Committee in the first district were mailed to voters of the second district.

Musser said this mistake, made by the printing firm, was not caught by his department proof-readers. Corrected sample ballots will be mailed to the 3,000 voters by Wednesday evening, he said.

Three other printing errors have been discovered, Musser added, but all were caught prior to mailing.

San Francisco Joins Ferry Study Plea

A $75,000 federal study of the feasibility of ferry service between Marin County and San Francisco got a go-ahead sign in San Francisco yesterday.

That San Francisco Board of Supervisors streets and transportation committee recommended that the study be requested of the federal government. The full board is expected to approve the committee's recommendation.

Availability of the federal funds was announced last month by Supervisor Thomas T. Storer, who has worked closely with Orris Willard, San Francisco planning commissioner and fellow ferryboat enthusiast.

Willard presented the argument for ferry boats before the committee yesterday. No one opposed the study.

Said Willard, "A second bridge between here and Marin would cost a billion dollars and probably wouldn't be built for 20 years. Meanwhile, we can ease the traffic problems (on Golden Gate Bridge)."

The study would be conducted by the Economic Development Administration of the Department of Commerce.

"I Am for Mel Because He's . . .

Cleric Criticizes Graham Crusade

LONDON (AP) — An article in the Anglican Church Times today criticized Billy Graham's coming London crusade as "a redundant anachronism." The crusade starts Wednesday.

What 20th Century London needs is "an evangel which lets loose the revolutionary stuff in the Bible on the whole structure of modern society," wrote the Rev. W. Cecil Northcott, editor of the Lutterworth Press and editor-at-large of Christian Century, an ecumenical weekly published in Chicago.

Graham's emphasis on personal salvation is "a debasement of the central concern of the Bible" and "a disservice to evangelism," Dr. Northcott wrote.

LBJ Declares U.S. Wants All Africans Equal

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson, in his first major policy statement on Africa, has publicly deplored racial and political injustice there. Officials said his words applied to Rhodesia, South Africa and Portugal's African colonies.

Addressing more than 300 African diplomats and others at an informal White House reception last night, Johnson described as repugnant "the narrow and outmoded policy which in some parts of Africa permits the few to rule at the expense of the many."

TELLS POLICY

In what was described as a general statement of principle, Johnson said, "The government of the United States cannot, therefore, condone the perpetuation of racial or political injustice anywhere in the world. We shall continue to provide our full share of assistance to refugees from social and political oppression."

The President said this country's support for self-determination "and an orderly transition to majority rule in every quarter of the globe" guides American policy toward white-ruled Rhodesia as in India, the Philippines, Viet Nam, Pakistan and elsewhere.

AIDES HEDGE

White House aides were asked whether that also was the guiding policy in the case of South Africa and the Portuguese colonies. After some hedging, one said flatly they would be included within the scope of Johnson's statement.

Johnson expressed a willingness "to help build a modern Africa" with aid, trade and other activities. And he announced that Ed Korry, U.S. ambassador to Ethiopia, will work fulltime in the weeks ahead reviewing U.S. development policies and programs in Africa.

Officials emphasized Johnson's carefully prepared remarks did not mark an expension of existing policy but rather pulled policy guidelines together "into a coherent package."

In discussing self-government by majority rule, Johnson said "the United States has learned from lamentable personal experience the waste and injustice that result from the domination of one race by another."

He also told the diplomats "just as we are determined to remove the remnants of inequality from our own midst, we also are with you — heart and soul — as you try to do the same."

THAT LIGHT-HEADED FEELING

Victim Drunk, Expert Tells Shooting Inquest

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A county autopsy surgeon says Negro motorist Leonard Deadwyler was "very drunk" when he was fatally shot by a white police officer.

Dr. Thomas Noguchi told a coroner's inquest yesterday that Deadwyler, 25, had a .35 per cent level of alcohol in his blood when he died.

A .15 level of alcohol is considered the level of intoxication, according to National Safety Council standards, Noguchi said. "In my opinion, he added, the decedent was very drunk."

Deadwyler was at the wheel of a car after a high-speed chase in South Los Angeles when he was shot May 7.

His pregnant wife, Barbara, 25, said he was rushing her to the hospital because she was suffering what she thought were labor pains. They later were diagnosed as the result of a kidney infection.

Noguchi said an alcohol level between .40 and .50 usually causes death.

Acute intoxication was a contributing cause of death, he said, but the main cause was a gunshot wound caused by a bullet that penetrated Deadwyler's heart and lungs.

Officer Jerold M. Bova, 23, testified earlier that his gun discharged accidentally when Deadwyler's car lurched forward.

Pre-Dawn Blaze Hits Plush Hotel

There were no injuries but the owner, Alex Madonna, estimated the loss at $250,000.

The blaze began in a room at 1:30 a.m. in one of the motel's sections. All the units were occupied but guests were evacuated. The blaze was controlled at 5:30 a.m.

New Technique Convicts Crank Telephone Suspect

Convicted by a court martial yesterday of making obscene telephone calls to a woman was James C. Wright, 25, an airman second class from Chicago.

One such call was recorded and sent with a recording of Wright's voice to Voiceprint Laboratories of Somerville, N.J. The laboratory declared both calls were made by the same man.

Lawrence G. Kersta a physicist who is a member of the laboratory's staff, testified a human voice produces a "print" that can be identified on a Spectograph.

The voiceprint system is 99.65 per cent fool proof, he declared, and as accurate as fingerprinting.

Wright, the court martial found, made the calls to Gray Ladies he met while a patient in the station hospital.

Wright contended he was arrested only because he was a Negro, but Kersta said a person's race has no relevance.

The court martial consisted of two colonels, three lieutenant colonels, three majors, two captains and a lieutenant. Of them, two were Negroes.

Wrigh twas sentenced to six months hard labor and a bad conduct discharge. There is a military review of all court martials.

Jordan To Test Ban On Pay TV

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The State Supreme Court's ruling overturning California's vote banning pay television will be appealed to the U.S. Supreme Court, Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan says.

The voters approved Prop. 15 in 1964, banning pay-TV in California. But the state high court has reversed this, declaring the vote a violation of free speech.

Jordan, who at first refused to appeal the decision, said yesterday he has been informed by the state attorney general's office that he is the only person who can ask for a review by the nation's highest tribunal. If the high court refuses to review the case, the State Supreme Court's decision would be final.

Convicted Physician To Donate Services

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Dr. Jack Greenberg, 60, a San Jose physician convicted of federal income tax evasion, decided Wednesday to give 400 hours of free service to charitable institutions rather than pay a $10,000 fine.

U.S. District Judge Albert C. Wollenberg gwve the doctor a choice after Greenberg pleaded no contest to a charge of understating his income for 1961 by $25,000.

Crowded Cuban Boat Escapes

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Twenty-nine Cubans were jammed into a 24-foot boat, but most said they enjoyed their voyage to exile.

"The trip was wonderful, but hiding in swamps and jungles for three days while waiting for the boat was not pleasant," said Rodolfo Penaranda, 84-year-old seaman, registering yesterday at the Cuban refugee center. "The mosquitoes were big and hungry."

Willson Named TB Drive Chief

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Meredith Willson, Broadway composer and show business personality, was named honorary chairman of the 1966 Christmas Seal campaign yesterday by the National Tuberculosis Association.

The announcement was made at a luncheon for outgoing chairman astronaut Scott Carpenter. The Association's annual convention ended yesterday.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Teen-Agers Really Are Strict Conformists—With Own Crowd

VAN DELLEN

Most of us associate adolescence with nonconformity, but in reality it is the age of strict conformity. These teen-agers want to do what others of their age do even though it represents a fad, and is silly in the eyes of more mature persons. The phase has been described as the herd instinct because the insecure find safety in numbers. Adolescents do not want to be different; they want to be the same.

CONFORMANCE creates a hardship when the teen-ager has unattractive teeth, outstanding ears, a misshapen nose, unsightly skin blemishes, faulty posture, and bone deformities. Ugly and prominent scars on the face, shoulders, chest, abdomen, and extremities are bothersome.

Obvious abnormalities create many psychological barriers, especially when aided and abetted by the cruel and thoughtless taunts of schoolmates. The defects become a source of shame leading to lack of self-confidence and psychic trauma. Now and then the individual makes a mountain out of a molehill by overemphasizing the importance of the deformity. Some develop imaginary qualms about unnoticeable differences.

Real disfigurements of the nose, ears, chin, teeth, and bony defects can be corrected via plastic surgery. Ugly scars can be removed and birthmarks disguished. This should be done before the youngster develops a deep-seated emotional problem.

It is surprising how often corrective surgery leads to a marked change in the attitude of the individual. The problem is to convince the parents who take the adult viewpoint of "so what."

AN UNSIGHTLY rash usually resolves itself when the youngster is convinced that the skin must be treated with care and not abuse.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

VASCULAR INSUFFIENCY

A. C. writes: I have had cerebral vascular insufficiency for nine months. How long do you think it will last?

REPLY

I am a poor prognosticator, especially when my opinion is based on a letter. Tests should be done to visualize the arteries in the neck and make other tests on the circulation to the brain. If a small segment of the artery is blocked by a clot, surgery will rectify the condition in a short time.

WINE AND ARTHRITIS

J. B. writes: Will excessive wine drinking make rheumatoid arthritis worse?

REPLY

If the joints are anything like the head, wine will make them feel better in the evening but worse in the morning. The arthritic fares better when he exercises moderation in everything, and in this respect overindulgence in alcoholic beverages is not condoned.

HEART AND THYROID

D. K. writes: Can thyroid disease affect the heart?

REPLY

Yes. A deficient secretion of the thyroid hormone with myxedema leads to enlargement, whereas overactivity of the gland increases the heart beat and may produce the irregularity known as auricular fibrillation. Unless hyperthyroidism is corrected, the heart may go into a state of failure.

CLAMPS AND STITCHES

B. M. writes: Why do some surgeons use clamps after abdominal surgery and others use stitches?

REPLY

Surgeons, like other artists, have preferences.

Today's Health Hint—Warts or moles that change in size or color may be malignant.

Drunken Driver Bill Delayed In Assembly

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Assembly, heeding Speaker Jesse M. Unruh's warning that a prolonged debate over Gov. Brown's controversial drunken driving bill "could do terrible damage to the house," decided today to hold the matter over until next Tuesday.

Assemblyman Pearce Young, D-Napa, carrying the measure in the lower house, asked that the bill be set for special hearing at 3 p.m. Tuesday. His request came after a lengthy meeting on the floor with Unruh and other leaders of both parties.

scribed Ferrari's final moments as he law mortally wounded in a side courtyard of the inn.

They were Shirley Rue, a waitress and resident of Apt. 4 at the inn, and Mrs. Peggy Finch of Fairfax, who was occupying Apt. 6 at the time.

Both testified hearing shouts, breaking glass and shots shortly after 3 a.m. on Labor Day, but differed as to the sequence of these events and as to the number of shots heard.

Miss Rue heard "three, maybe four shots"; Mrs. Finch, only two.

They arrived at the end of the patio seconds apart and they said, had to struggle to keep Ferrari from trying to get up.

Miss Rue said Ferrari's last words concerned his wife, Wilma: "Help me, Help me, Shirley. I'm dying. Call Wilma." Miss Rue said Ferrari was bleeding badly and that she took a towel from her room to staunch the blood.

Dr. Charles Palmigiano told of being summoned to San Rafael General Hospital at 3:45 a.m. and pronouncing Ferrari dead.

Mrs. Finch told of finding a copper jacketed bullet under a doormat outside her apartment where Ferrari fell. She said she turned it over to San Rafael police. It was entered in evidence.

County Coroner Frank J. Keaton was called to identify Ferrari's blood - stained clothes, which were then entered in evidence, as well as the slain bartender's two wallets which were left behind at the inn by the killers.

Keaton said the wallets contained $360, which he turned over to Mrs. Ferrari.

The coroner was questioned sharply by Thomas P. Boyd, defense attorney for Osuna. Keaton had said he was present part of the time when Albertoni was giving Police Chief Charles J. Shiesa a description of the hooded gunmen.

Boyd wanted to know if at that time Albertoni had mentioned the eyes of one of the killers, graphically described by him in court as being "very light gray, very light gray . . . with red particles like sawdust thrown in the eyes."

Keaton said he didn't recall hearing this, but that he was not present throughout the interrogation.

Thomas Orovich, San Rafael Public Works Department employee, testified to making a large scale drawing of the Mission Inn layout being used to trace the series of events that night.

man of integrity," said Senator McCarthy.

In an editorial in the Woodland Democrat, publisher Paul Leake, who is also a member of the state Board of Equalization, wrote:

"Like his late associate, Roy Brown, he was a considerate gentleman of strong principle and benevolent intent. . . . What he left is not to be measured by any material standard, but in terms of the countless people who, thanks to his wide and compassionate help and counsel, were guided into a meaningful way of life. . . .

Still other praise and condolences came from Clyde Edmondson, former secretary of the state Highway Commission and retired general manager of the Redwood Empire Assn.; Robert R. Gros, vice-president of Pacific Gas and Electric Co.; officials of the California Press Assn.; veteran Hearst editor and publisher Lee Ettelson, now an aide to Gov. Edmund G. Brown; Tom R. Hennion of the Tulare Advance-Register; Seymour Sterling of the Sanger Herald; James A. Wood, assistant general manager of Peninsula Newspapers, Inc., and F. K. believed what Thi said.

"I believe all my friend said," he replied.

Thi was the military commander of the 1st Corps which includes five rebellious provinces in the northern part of South Viet Nam. His ouster resulted in widespread anti-government demonstrations. There were more today in Hue where Buddhist monks gathered in front of the U.S. consulate, slashed their chests and wrote letters to President Johnson in blood demanding an end to American support for the Ky government.

Reliable sources said Thi had refused twice previously to meet Ky because he did not trust the Premier. This time he had American protection and was flown from Hue to Chu Laid in a U.S. Marine plane, reportedly on orders of Marine Lt. Gen. Lewis W. Walt.

Ky said he also had received a request from militant Buddhist leader Thich Thien Minh to give the Buddhists three seats in the ruling military junta —the posts of foreign affairs, interior (police) and information.

"This is something we will have to look into further," Kyo said.

Elsewhere, about 1,000 Communist guerrillas overcame a 350-man South Vietnamese battalion yesterday in a day-long battle which was the strongest attack the Reds have launched in some time, military spokesman said today.

The South Vietnamese recaptured the position later.

It was not certain immediately whether the attack marked the start of the expected Communist monsoon offensive.

U.S. troops killed at least 51 Communists in scattered actions yesterday.. The 1st Air Cavalry iDvision killed 22 in fighting 275 miles north of Saigon and the 1st Infantry Division killed 29 and captured large supplies of food and ammunition in a sweep 18 miles east-southeast of the capital.

U.S. Marine artillery caught more than 100 Reds in the open 375 miles north of Saigon and shelled them at long range with undetermined results.

In the air, U.S. B-52 bombers blasted guerrilla concentrations today in Quang Ngai province, 350 miles north of Saigon. Air Force, Navy and Marine pilots killed an estimated 38 guerrillas and destroyed scores of buildings and boats in 382 sorties over South Viet Nam yesterday.

That's slightly less than the 7.7. per cent increase registered during the last five years.

Christopher Hits Brown, Pearson

Christopher, candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, referred yesterday to disclosures that his dairy, Christopher Farms, was fined 27 years ago for minor infractions of the state dairy price code.

"This distortion," Christopher said, "was designed to remove me, his (Brown's) strongest competitor, from the Governor's race — a plot which he was forced to admit he engineered."

Christopher told a state-wide television audience, "Gov. Brown personally had to acknowledge that he and Drew Pearson collaborated in the sickening attack."

Christopher gave this version of the milk fine incident:

"Twenty-seven years ago, California enacted a price - fixing law that compelled all dairymen to buy and sell milk at prices fixed by the state.

"The small operators, such as myself, felt we wanted to sell milk in the open market with no controls by the state. We took the matter to court, feeling the law was unconstitutional, and we won.

"Later, the State Supreme Court confirmed that the law was unconstitutional. At this point, we bought and sold in the spirit of the free enterprise system.

"However, about a year later, the State Supreme Court, in a new ruling, said the law was, after all, constitutional. Thus, in the interim period, many dairymen throughout the state were guilty of buying and selling milk below state fixed prices, and were fined for misdemeanors.

"The state was unhappy with these dairy operators, but the housewives, of course, were very happy for their savings."

Christopher said the facts were "well reported in my biography, 'Christopher of San Francisco.' So whom are Mr. Brown and Mr. Pearson trying to delude?"

The former San Francisco mayor said the attack on him was planned by Brown and his political advisors last October when they decided that Christopher would be a harder GOP candidate to beat than Ronald Reagan.

Christopher said Pearson has been a longtime supporter of Brown, taking part in paid political broadcasts for Brown against Richard M. Nixon in the 1962 gubernatorial campaign.

Senator Dodd Streamlines His Libel Suit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thomas J. Dodd has revised his conspiracy and libel suit against columnists Drew Pearson and Jack Anderson, shortening the list of allegations, scaling down his damage claims to $2 million and asking for a speedy trial.

Dodd's original suit, filed May 6, asked for a $5 million judgment against the columnists, whose charges of improper conduct against the Connecticut Democrat are being investigated by the Senate Ethics Committee. Dodd requested the committee investigate the charges against him, saying he had nothing to conceal.

The revised complaint reduces from 14 to three the specific claims of libel and also asks the case be assigned to a single federal judge to speed up pretrial proceedings.

Dodd said he hoped this would permit all preliminary procedures to be completed in June so trial could begin in July.

The tomato, by horticultural standards, is a fruit, but U.S. federal courts have ruled that because of its use it should be classed in commerce as a vegetable.

Bay Crossing Fund Added By Assembly

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Assemblymen have added $10 million to the state budget to cover planning and preliminary engineering costs for a southern crossing over San Francisco Bay.

Assemblyman John Foran, D-San Francisco, told the lower house Ways and Means Committee yesterday that the money would be financed through bonds. Repayment, he said, would come from the tolls of the San Francisco-Oakland, San Mateo-Hayward and Dumbarton bridges.

The bridge would connect Alameda Bay Farm Island and India Basin on the San Francisco side, a crossing that has been approved by the State Toll Bridge Authority.

Toll Bridge Authority Chief Engineer E. R. Foley said the seven-mile-long bridge could be completed by 1975. Estimated cost of the structure, he said, including freeway approaches, would be $300 million.

Bus Strike Peace Talk Broken Off To June 2

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Peace talks in the 13-day Western Greyhound Lines strike have been broken off for a week, leaving thousands of Memorial Day weekend travelers without bus transportation.

Federal mediators late yesterday called a halt to the bargaining after their efforts to settle the walkout were stymied. The talks had been going on in Washington, D.C., but they will be resumed in San Francisco June 2.

The strike, called May 14 by the Amalgamated Transit Union to back contract demands, affected travelers in California, Oregon, Washington, Arizona, Nevada, Utah, Montana, New Mexico, Idaho, Wyoming and West Texas.

The bus line carries about 110,000 passengers during a normal weekday. However, the total for a holiday weekend is usually much higher, according to the company.

Strikers here yesterday kept a chartered Eastern Greyhound bus, touring the country with 37 elderly persons from Dearborn, Mich., from leaving the city.

A company negotiator, Peter Nevitt, termed the union demands "hoggish" and an announcement issued here declared, "We may be shut down for a long time."

Officials of the union, which represents 5,500 drivers and other workers, were not available for comment.

Planet-Earth Collision Doubted

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Predictions that the speeding planet Icarus will crash into earth in 1968 are off base, by about 4 million miles, a scientist who specializes in watching asteroids says.

The tiny planet — about one half-mile in diameter — will make its closest approach to earth on June 15, 1968, Dr. Samuel Herrick of the University of California at Los Angeles said yesterday.

Herrick said Icarus will pass Mercury on May 1, 1968, missing that distant planet by about 10 million miles which, he said, isn't close enough to alter the orbit of Icarus.

U.S. Savings Bonds sales in Marin County in April totalled $154,905, according to Marin bonds chairman D. C. Davis.

Tourists Have Fun While Bus Is Idle

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — When 37 Michigan senior citizens were stranded in San Francisco by Western Lines Greyhound strike complications, they responded by square dancing in their hotel's lobby.

All members of the Pleasant Hours Club of Dearborn were on a 30-day chartered western tour when Amalgamated Transit Union pickets stopped their bus Thursday in San Francisco.

The bus was operated by the unstruck Eastern Greyhound Lines. San Francisco Transit Union local spokesmen said, "Any Greyhound bus that comes into our territory is going to be picketed." Some union members threatened to lay down in front of the bus.

Baptists Not Set For Merger Yet

DETROIT (UPI) —Two major U.S. Baptist groups pledged greater cooperation today but ruled out organic union of their 16 million members.

Delegates to the annual Southern Baptist Convention, which winds up a four-day meeting today, also voted 4 to 1 to keep next year's convention in Miami closed to contemporary issues such as the death of God and changing ethics.

Newly elected SBC President Franklin Paschall and Carl Tiller, president of the American Baptist Convention, pledged their churches to cooperate more fully "in Christian work" but said, "a federated church is not the answer to the problems of Christianity."

College To Give Citizen Awards To Ada Fusselman, Dr. Hensler

ADA FUSSELMAN

HARRY N. HENSLER

Honored by college

College of Marin will present "outstanding citizen awards to Mrs. Ada Fusselman of San Anselmo, a member of the college's original board of trustees, and Dr. Harry N. Hensler, a former college physician, at commencement ceremonies June 17.

The college also will present outstanding alumni awards to Paul Crapuchettes of Woodside, vice president of Lytton Industries Tube Division, and George B. Duncan III of San Anselmo, a faculty member.

In contrast to previous years when the awards were kept secret until commencement day, they were announced in advance last night at the Marin Junior College District Board meeting.

Mrs. Fusselman served on the board from 1926, when the college started, until she retired in 1959.

Dr. Hensler was active in the creation of a registered nursing program at the college and is a member of the citizens advisory committee.

Duncan, a Spanish instructor, was cited for his outstanding contributions to foreign students. A graduate of the class of 1934 at the college, he has been a teacher and a tutor for 30 years.

New Administrator, Department Set Up

The Marin Junior College District Board last night approved creation of a department of mathematics and a new administrative position.

The job of vice president and dean of instruction now held by Paul M. Clymer will be split, creating a separate position of vice president. College President Stephen E. Epler recommended, however, that his job not be filled during the 1966-67 school year.

The new department of mathematics will be under the science, math and engineering division, which now has only one sub-department, science.

The new administrative organization also includes revision of college committees and addition of faculty committees on campus planning, evening college, and institutional research.

After a discussion with faculty representatives, the board rejected a proposal to form a faculty budget advisory committee.

Norman Bird, business manager, reported the tentative budget for fiscal 1967, is now $3,994,333, which is $542,666 higher than the present budget. This is a cut of $78,295 since the budget was first presented in March, Bird reported. He said he will report again on further revisions June 9.

Epler reported the college has been recommended to receive $92,222 in federal funds for equipment for science, music, drama and audio-visual.

The catch is, he explained, that Marin was rated 21st and the funds are sufficient for only 20 junior colleges. If for any reason one of the 20 colleges is disqualified or withdraws, Marin may receive the funds.

The Marin Junior College District Board also:

The Marin Junior College District Board Also:

1. Hired for next fall: Harold E. Bailey, now a part-time teacher, as instructor of machine and metal technology and welding at $9,840 a year; Betty Goris, teacher at Idaho State University, $10,240; Madeline Lowe, a nurse at University of California Medical Center, instructor in psychiatric nursing, $7,000; Robert Minton, graduate student at University of San Francisco, speech instructor, $7,000; Thomas C. Place, a San Rafael High School teacher, mathematics instructor, $9,060; and hired Arlene Stark, counselor, at $8,290, effective Aug. 15, and Doris Thurston, library clerk, at $365 a month, effective July 5.

2. Approved 13 change orders in construction of the fine arts building at cost of $18,158.

3. Approved a requirement that all fulltime district employees have an annual tuberculosis checkup, instead of the former requirement for a checkup every two years.

Armed Forces Cause Many To Quit College

There were 191 dropouts among regular students, and 33 per cent of them listed the service as reason for withdrawing, Irwin P. Diamond, dean of students, told the Marin Junior College District Board last night.

Diamond said that a student can get a draft classification that will enable him to complete a college year, but "a lot for some reason or other don't take it."

The 191 dropouts out of 2,738 students represented a dropout rate of 7 per cent, he noted.

Finances were the second highest reason for dropouts, Diamond said. About 19 per cent of the regular student dropouts listed this as their reason.

Burning Bridge Cuts Rail Traffic

MADERA (AP)—A bridge fire blocked the Santa Fe Railway Co.'s main line between Southern California and the San Francisco Bay Area last night.

The blaze was discovered at 11:45 p.m. in a 330-foot bridge, constructed of creosoted wood, over Cottonwood Creek four miles southeast of Madera.

Brazil Nominates Former General

BRASILIA, Brazil (AP) — The way appeared clear today for election of War Minister Arthur Da Costa E Silva to Brazil's presidency — and continuance of military rule — following his nomination as the government's candidate.

Costa E Silva was the only name put before the national convention of the government's National Renewal Alliance (ARENA) yesterday, but 25 of the 361 delegates cast blank ballots and there were a few write-ins.

The government party has a 2-1 majority in Congress, which will elect the next president and vice president Oct. 3. Election day will be Costa E Silva's 64th birthday.

Councilmen Shave Sausalito Budget

Pruning Sausalito's proposed 1966-67 $837,785 city budget continued last night as councilmen concentrated on police, fire and public works departments' requests.

Approximately $3,000 was shaved as the councilmen agreed to allow the police department another lieutenant but insisted it get along with one less patrolman in that case. At suggestion of Mayor Mel Wax, it was agreed to try to qualify a member of the force for the new post before searching outside.

The proposed budget called for an increase for the police department from $162,840 to $177,980, much of this in increased operation and maintenance costs.

City Mgr. Charles A. Brown told the council much of this increase coincided with removal of the police station from city hall to new quarters on Caledonia Street.

The annual telephone bill, he said, rose about $2,000 to $9,320 with installation of four trunk lines instead of the two on the old switchboard. Another $1,200 in heat and lighting costs—now charged to the department instead of city hall—boosted utilities to $6,370. Gasoline and oil allotments went up $1,200 due to increased patrol car activity.

Another $13,317 will be eliminated from the budget before adoption if the council decides not to grant the fire department a $7,975 fire prevention captain and the public works department a $5,342 draftsman. Councilmen postponed decision on these items pending detailed discussion with Fire Chief Charles E. Masten and the public works department.

The proposed fire department budget would rise from $140,220 to $171,485, with $33,870 for capital outlay, an $11,080 increase.

Some $6,000 in the fire protection budget was approved for replacement of some four-inch mains with six-inch ones, but this, the councilmen agreed, might be increased to $10,000 when the budget is adopted in June. Brown said that this was "only a drop in the bucket" compared to the $100,000 he estimated is needed to improve the city's mains.

Also approved was a $36,100 street improvement program to be financed out of gasoline tax revenues.

A saving of 20 per cent on the fire department's annual laundry bill of $540 was proposed by Councilman Earl Dunphy and agreed to by the others." Let them pick up and deliver their sheets and towels at the laundry themselves, instead of having delivery serivce," Dunphy said.

Last night was the second of 11 scheduled budget review sessions. Others will be next Wednesday and Thursday, June 8, 9, 14, 15 and 16. A budget review tour of public works was set for June 11 instead of June 4.

SAUSALITO'S NEEDLING QUESTION

"Does a fireman have a thicker skin than a policeman?"

That was the 70-cent question posed last night by Sausalito City Councilman Earl F. Dunphy at a budget review session. He pointed out to his fellow councilmen that the police department had requested $2.50 per man for flu shots in the new budget, where as the fire department has asked for $3.20.

The question was referred to City Mgr. Charles A. Brown for an answer at the next budget review next Wednesday.

U.S. Mars Probe Still Signalling

PASADENA (AP) — Signals from the Mariner 4 spacecraft that photographed Mars last July 14 indicate it may function until 1968.

Power for Mariner's small radio transmitter comes from a solar panel aimed at the sun.

Officials at Jet Propulsion Laboratory said signals received from Mariner 4 last Saturday by the laboratory's new 210-foot diameter antenna at Goldstone, Calif., were from about 197.5-million miles in space.

Tioga Pass To Open; Road Work Scheduled

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Tioga Pass route leading through Yosemite National Park east to U.S. 395 will open for the season Saturday but will be closed part of the time because of construction, the State Highway Division said today.

Road work on Route 120 will close the highway from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. and from 4 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. Monday through Friday. The road will remain open weekends and legal holidays.

Cooky Bake Money Due Guide School

Fourth graders from Marin Country Day School will present money they earned by baking and selling cookies at school to the Guide Dogs for the Blind, during graduation ceremonies for 10 man-dog teams at the center on Ranchitos Road at 2:30 p.m. tomorrow.

The fourth grade class of Mrs. Rita Gunderson sold cookies and cakes at the school's recent Kite Day. The Guide Dog project developed from social studies classes.

Hostesses at the graduation will be Mill Valley members of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, Omicron Alpha Chapter, and Mrs. Sheldon Schwebel, ways and means chairman, will present a check to the non-profit organization.

Speaker will be Mel L. Morse, executive director of Marin Humane Society.

Tomorrow's graduation marks the conclusion of a month's training for 10 man-dog teams, during which they visited Muir Woods, Chinatown and the Civic Center.

Scheduled to receive their guide dogs are Laurence Aguirre and Dennis Mason of San Francisco; Gove Plocker of Berkeley; Mrs. Margaret Stewart and Gilbert Jackson of Sacramento; Sarah Walker of Hermosa Beach, Los Angeles County, Charles Farlow of Austin, Tex.; Arthur Criess of Berthoud, Colo.; Lloyd Latham of Phoenix, Ariz., and James Meadows of Beaumont, Tex.

The public graduation will be followed by a training demonstration a tour and open house at the Ranchitos Road center.

Oil Pipe Plan Brings Warning

WASHINGTON(UPI)— reclamation Commissioner Floyd E. Dominy has warned that a proposed pipeline to carry fresh water under the Pacific Ocean would be readily open to sabotage.

The proposal was made by the National Engineering Science Co. as a possibility for transporting water from Northern to Southern California.

Dominy, in House Appropriations Committee testimony released yesterday, expressed doubts as to its feasibility but said "we would not rule it out as a possibility."

Fire Boxes Labeled Useless

Sausalito's fire alarm call boxes were called "useless" last night by the city's councilmen, who then reluctantly approved budgeting $2,000 for their repair.

City Mgr. Charles A. Brown told the councilmen, meeting to review the new budget, that "only three per cent of our calls come from the alarm boxes."

"Then why spend this money?" asked Mayor Mel Wax.

Brown said, "They're not necessary except for fire insurance ratings. They're useless but we're stuck with them."

On April 30, 1926, commercial radio-photo service was inaugurated with radio transmission of pictures from England to the United States.

Business Bureaus Calls Are Gaining

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Better Business Bureau offices in the United States and 14 foreign cities handled more than 3.4 million calls last year, it was reported yesterday at the conclusion of the organization's annual convention.

George V.HMorse Jr., exzcutive vice president and general manager of the Los Angeles branch, told a research and statistics committee meeting that the total was "an impressive 14 per cent gain over the previous year."

More added that the BBB stood "on the threshold of a great new opportunity" and this was reflected in the record total of 106 bureaus which participated in submitting statistical summaries during the past year.

During an office systems and procedures committee meeting, it was decided that a subcommittee would be formed to study the possibilities of developing a program through which additional BBB foreign branches could be created.

Under the present system, the BBB waits for foreign cities to request branch offices before acting. However, the committee felt expansion might be speeded up if the procees is reversed.

Sanitary District Budget $128,000 Hike Gets Nod

Directors of Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District last night gave tentative approval to a $128,000 budget for fiscal 1967.

The total is up $18,000 over the current year's expenditures. The increase is due to the need for better maintenance of lines and treatment plant and the addition of the Gallinas Village system, district secretary Helen Foulkes explained.

The payroll will increase from $49,000 to $56,000, mainly due to addition of a fulltime manager. The increase also provides funds for salary increases up to 5 per cent, but directors have not yet recommended salary changes.

Directors authorized repair of the access road to the district office, estimated at $1,600, and approved development agreement for the two-acre Marin Center apartment project and the 25-acre San Rafael Park Unit Three.

Warsaw Pact Aides Meeting

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—Defense ministers of the Warsaw Pact nations are meeting in Moscow today to lay the groundwork for a summit meeting of the Communist alliance in Bucharest in July, the newspaper Borba said.

Another preparatory meeting of the foreign ministers will be held in Moscow next month, Borba said.

Official Soviet sources in Moscow said they knew nothing of a Warsaw Pact meeting today, but it is not unusual to announce such conferences only after they take place.

Youths Sign In Navy Construction Program

Two Marin youths enlisted in the Navy yesterday as builders under a program for men skilled in construction trades, according to Chief Robert E. Betts of the Navy Recruiting Branch Station in San Rafael.

They are Wayne V. Cattich, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Cattich, 2197 Vineyard Road, Novato, and Robert M. Darcy, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Darcy, 5 Meadow Avenue, San Rafael. Both were enlisted as petty officer third class and sent to Davisville, R.I., for the Seabee petty officers' indoctrination course.

$11.5 Million Land Sale Told

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The city's Redevelopment Agency sold five downtown blocks for $11.5 million yesterday to a syndicate that plans a $100 million building complex.

Buyers were John C. Portman, Atlanta architect; Cloyce C. Box, Oklahoma cement firm president; and Trammell Crow, Dallas investor and developer.

Included in the complex, which is part of the Golden Gateway Project, will be offices, commercial and recreational facilities, including a municipal repertory theater.

School District Merger Effect On Tax Listed

The Marin County Committee on School District Organization today said San Rafael Elementary School District residents could expect a "slightly more than 7 per cent" tax rate increase if the district were unified with San Rafael High School and Dixie Elementary school districts.

Asst. County Schools Supt. Robt. F. Stannard released the figure to correct an erroneous calculation of 17 per cent that appears on enclosures mailed with sample ballots for the June 7 unification election. Stannard, who is also committee secretary, said letters showing the new figure also were being mailed to the Terra Linda News, both district boards of education, the League of Women voters and the Dixie Citizens Finance Committee.

The school district organization committee asked Stannard to recalculate the figure after the error clouded a public hearing on unification last week. The higher percentage appears in the argument against unification.

Stannard said the 7 per cent was based on the maximum allowable tax rate and included present override taxes but not bond payments. He said the 17 per cent figure occurred because the opponents had used "a different set of assumptions."

The new percentage agrees with figures previously calculated by committee member Mrs. Marietta Larsen and by the League of Women Voters.

Tax Exclusion Asked

Kentfield Fire District commission last night adopted a resolution asking Marin County supervisors to exclude the district from the county's structural fire tax. They also looked at slides of various Bay Area fire houses, seeking ideas for the new station they are planning. Commissioner W. J. Williams was absent.

Market Makes Closing Gains In Late Buying

NEW YORK (AP)—Late buying pushed stock market averages into plus territory at the close today.

The improvement came at the end of the slowest session since last summer. Prices were mixed with a slightly lower tendency most of the day.

Volume for the day was estimated at 4.5 million shares compared with 6.09 million yesterday.

The three-day Memorial Day weekend caused many traders and investors to take to the sidelines. Stock exchanges will be closed Monday.

The list was a hodge-podge of gains and losses, most of them minor. Thin offerings were enough to drag down some blue chips, notably General Electric which sank more than 2 points.

Losses of about a point were shown by Du Pont, United Aircraft and Xerox. IBM slipped 2.

Selective strength in nonferrous metals and other groups helped cushion the market. Anaconda was ahead about 2, International Nickel about 1½ and Homestake around a point.

All Big Three motors took fractional losses. Rails showed some weakness. Pennsylvania Railroad was down about 2, New York Central more than a point.

Teledyne moved up and down during the session following its wide gains of the past two sessions. It was selling at a loss of a point or so in late dealings.

Northwest Airlines dropped about 4, Motorola 3, Milwaukee Railroad and Chicago & North Western about 2 each.

Steeels were in plus territory by a narrow margin on balance.

Owens-Corning Fiberglas picked up about 3 points and Allied Mills gained 2. Superior Oil rose 2, Sharon Steel about 1½ and Owens - Illinois Inc. more than 3.

Prices were mixed in in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Juniper Insect Foe Is Ready To Strike

The juniper twig girdler, known to science as periploca nigra hodges, is soon to strike again in Marin.

Its life cycle goes from egg to larvae, pupa and moth stages. It does its damage as a larvae, girdling beneath the branch of a juniper. In early fall, the damage begins to appear, with affected limbs turning yellow and brown.

Now is the time to prevent the damage, Garvey said.

He said commercial sprays are available in nursery and garden supply shops. He recommends an application in the first week of June, followed by a second in the third week of June and a third in the second week of July.

Junipers are also affected by crown rot (usually the fungus Phytopthora), which gets established when soil covers the stems of the plant.

Agricultural Commissioner Richard T. Straw said the best way to control this is to make sure soil is cleared down to the root zone. It is usually best to check on this after each rainy season.

Ford's Daughter Has Baby Girl

NEW YORK (AP) — New York Hospital reported yesterday that Charlotte Ford Niarchos and her newborn daughter were doing fine.

Mrs. Niarchos, 24-year-old daughter of auto magnate Henry Ford II, gave birth to the 7-pound, 1-ounce girl yesterday. She is the wife of Stavros Niarchos, 56-year-old Greek merchant fleet owner.

The couple was married in Mexico last Dec. 16.

Retirement Parade Set For Tiburon Veteran

A formal retreat and retirement parade for Col. John E. Robb of 50 Seafirth Road, Tiburon, will be Tuesday at 3 p.m. at Oakland Army Base.

Colonel Robb, 55, is retiring from the Army after 33 years to become deputy supervisory advisor at the Agency for International Development's regional liaison office in Japan.

Robb is deputy commander and chief of staff for western area of the Military Traffic Management and Terminal Service at Oakland Army Base.

He began his Army career in 1933 as a second lieutenant in the reserves, following graduation from Stanford University. He was called to active duty in 1941 with the 33rd Infantry Division as commanding officer of an artillery battalion.

During World War II he saw combat in the Marshall Islands, New Guinea, Bismarck Archipelago and the Philippines, and was awarded the bronze star.

After the war he was assigned to the Marine Corps Amphibious Force in Coronado, and later served as an instructor at the Command and General Staff College, from which he had graduated.

In 1952 he was sent to Europe for three years as executive officer of the First Division Artillery. When he returned to the United States he was assigned as plans chief in the Army deputy chief of staff, logistics, in Washington, D.C. He was in Viet Nam in 1959-61, when he came to Fort Mason. In April, 1964, he was transferred to Oakland Army Base.

Awards Are Given To Top Students

The occasion was the annual outstanding student award luncheon sponsored by Marin members of the California Savings and Loan League at Peacock Gap Country Club.

Each of the 11 received a gold medallion and $100 award. More important, each received the knowledge that he had been chosen by his own school as its outstanding graduating senior. Selections for the awards, explained Fred F. Enemark, chairman of the program, are made entirely by the principal and faculty at each school. They are for outstanding performance over all, not only in scholarship or activities.

Receiving the honor were:

Katharine Branson School: Christina Mary Smilie, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John G. Smillie of 270 Vista Grande, Greenbrae.

Sir Francis Drake High School: Peter Stone, son of Mr. Mr. and Mrs. George C. Stone of 801 Bolinas Road, Fairfax.

Marin Catholic High School: Claire Veronica Broome, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Broome of 335 Fawn Drive, Sleepy Hollow.

Novato High School: Bruce McClelland Palmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clark M. Palmer Jr. of 80 Crescent Lane, Novato.

San Domenico School for Girls: Elizabeth Byrne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Byrne of Malin, Ore.

San Rafael High School: Jacalyn Hartman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hartman of 4 Locksley Lane, San Rafael.

San Rafael Military Academy: Gregory Mallory Nickerson, son of Robert L. Nickerson and Mrs. Waters Sliter, both of San Francisco.

Tamalpais High School: Donald H. Jen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Jen of 191 Harrison Avenue, Sausalito.

Tomales High School: Jeffrey Scott Kaspick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl L. Kaspick of Point Reyes Station.

The awards were presented by Stanley M. Caffrey, president of the San Francisco Bay Area Council and former vice president of University of California, who also spoke to the students, praising their accomplishments and advising them to carry on in lives so well begun.

The savings and loan outstanding student award program is in its ninth year. Marin County has participated since the beginning. Sponsoring associations in Marin are Marin County Savings and Loan Assn., Ross Valley Savings and Loan Assn., Northwestern Savings and Loan Assn., Citizens Federal Savings and Loan Assn., Novato Savings and Loan Assn., and Tamalpais Savings and Loan Assn.

Houlihan Court Action Delayed

OAKLAND (UPI) — The arraignment of former Mayor John C. Houlihan on a grand theft charge yesterday was delayed until June 10.

Defense attorney Stanley Golde told Superior Judge Redmond C. Staats he had not had time to study the 260-page transcript of the grand jury investigation that led to the indictment, nor the 170 exhibits accompanying it.

Houlihan is accued of taking about $97,000 from the estate of Mrs. Sarilla Whitlock while serving as conservator. He resigned as mayor after heirs, including Mrs. Lillian Searle of Novato, filed a civil suit against him.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Give The Hassenfeffer A Good Try Even Though You're A Steak Man

No doubt if Gregory's Restaurant were suddenly taken away from Paradise Drive, Corte Madera, and placed in say downtown Fourth Street, San Rafael, there would be a daily line-up for service, by reason of the more advantageous location.

And for some, such a site would be an immediate recommendation, with consequent redoubling of the trade.

As it is now, Gregory's does quite a creditable lunch and dinner business in the Paradise Shopping Center, albeit there is no sidewalk traffic to speak of. And since Paradise Drive is a side thoroughfare and still comparatively unknown to many Marinites, the flow of vehicle traffic is mostly local.

No big sign to identify Gregory's. No bustling location. A place where it has to make its way strictly on the quality of its food — and does.

One of my favorite dinner entrees here is the hassenfeffer. I have written about this before, so that may come as no surprise. There isn't much more to say about it that hasn't already been said, except that Gregory Seubert imports his rabbits from Hollister by way of a Hayward purveyor, having found this to be his best quality source of supply.

Talking to others, I hear good words on just about the entire food selection, with special kudos for the sauerbraten noodles and red cabbage and for the lady's steak jungfrauenart — which may have that feminine delicacy of flavor, but has almost masculine proportions.

I should remind you again that there's a beautiful little banquet room and nice cocktail lounge where barmaster Henry Blencke tells me Tele-Vue Systems will soon install a television set to demonstrate what kind of reception can be had by subscribing to this firm's community antenna service.

PERSONALLY I ENJOY a good steak, but I never have been a steak man to the extent of insisting on being served a New York, rare or medium, in preference to anything else the menu may have to offer. Actually it's about the last thing that occurs to me.

But a lot of people are differently inclined. And no matter where they go, a steak is all they'll order. Whether this attitude is due to lack of imagination, stubbornness, the fact that it may be the most expensive thing on the menu or simply that they don't like other food, I'm not sure.

From my point of view they're missing some of the better things in life. Particularly when they knowingly choose a restaurant for its European atmosphere or one that is better known for those subtly flavored dishes which offer a challenge to the chef. And in some cases the restaurant makes no ado about specializing in steaks but has them as a convenience choice or standby.

It's no secret that many Americans regard a generous New York steak as the ultimate in cuisine, and I'll admit it ranks high on the list, but judging a restaurant with that as a measuring stick may do it an injustice. European type restaurants, for eample, make more of the filet, the medallion, the tournedos, and while tenderness is a necessary virtue—size is not. Other considerations are in the flavor or the garnishment or the pate.

Fortunately there are many good restaurants in Marin where the steaks are every bit as mouthwatering as the best western American tradition calls for. Offhand, if you're an out-and-out steak man you can generally come out of such places as these with a smile on your face:

The Spinnaker in Sausalito; Blue Rock Inn, Larkspur; Rubini's in Fairfax; Rancho Nicasio in West Marin; San Rafael Joe's in downtown San Rafael; Galli's in Ignacio.

There are others of course—you probably have your own favorites. I just haven't ordered enough steaks to advise you on all of them.

IT APPEARS NOW that Tiburon Lodge won't get into operation until the latter part of next month, according to Ben Farlatti's last timetable. And the food service here may very well be more than a simple coffee shop as originally planned. Tiburon has gotten to be something of a speciality area for restaurants. Ben is talking now about a more extensive layout, with perhaps a dining and lunch service along the lines of what the Lodge in Novato has to offer.

Meanwhile he and Corinne Lacomble Navarre have been talking about her Zut Alors boutique shop (as yet unopened) going in the Tiburon Lodge lobby next to the cocktail lounge entrance. Redwood Travel Advisors has already signed up for a branch travel agency here.

I'VE SELDOM SEEN Jess Fisher of Black Point Inn so enthused over anything (and justifiably so) as he is about his latest attraction, the Jack Dahl Trio, new group that plays at Black Point for dancing Friday and Saturday nights and Sunday afternoons and evenings.

The trio consists of Jack Dahl at drums—also banjo and violin on occasions, wife June at organ and piano, and Al Winterhaler on sax and clarinet. They are Capitol recording stars, and old time name band followers will enjoy their type of music, which is both danceable and "listenable."

COUNT YOUR BLESSINGS in French bread. On his last two trips home from the East, my son has held that he's never been able to get French bread the way it's baked in the Bay Area. Now, from a letter received from a couple in Los Angeles, I gather that they have the same trouble down there. The San Rafael French Bakery product of John Gillette particularly has held up as the shining example of good quality.

A MEMORIAL DAY OPENING is scheduled for a new Russian River restaurant—the Red Fox Inn at the refurbished and modernized Rio Nido Resort. The inn is on the site of the old Rio Nido Hotel which has been entirely remodeled.

Mostly Italian food will be served, I understand, but standard American fare will be on the menu. Bruno Pella of San Francisco will be operator and manager. Most recently he was a maitre d' at Paoli's.

There's a new bar and also a separate coffee shop for less elaborate dining. Red Fox will have a capacity of several hundred.

Owning corporation Rio Nido Enterprises, Inc. is headed by San Rafael attorney P. Roy Vallarino. Former San Rafael Lincoln-Mercury dealer Emile Bugna is a vice president.

CHAIN REACTION—Two women were injured in this pile-up involving five cars in Third Street, San Rafael, near the Lincoln Avenue intersection today. It was caused, said police, by one car which ran out of control after the driver suffered a seizure. (Independent-Journal photo)

SUMMARY SACRAMENTO

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Assembly starts long debate on anti-drunk driver bill, amid indications legislature may recess next week until after June primary election.

THE ASSEMBLY

Defeated, 40-34, a proposed amendment by Assemblyman Milton Marks, R-San Francisco, to the drunken driving bill by Sen. Randolph Collier, D-Yreka.

Concurred in senate amendments:

Smog — Requires all used cars in counties with air pollution control districts to have exhaust smog control devices installed when state approves one such device costing no more than $65 installed; AB 98, Carrell, D-San Fernando.

Districts — Requires that taxes levied by special districts comprising two or more counties levy equal taxes in all counties; AB 111, Knox, D-Richmond.

Mud — Enables Los Angeles County supervisors to reassess for purposes of taxation property suffering $500 or more in losses from mud slides; AB 182, Stevens, R-Los Angeles.

Teachers — Allocates $75,000 to Joint Legislative Retirement Committee for study of State Teachers Retirement System; ACR 54, Allen, D-Los Angeles.

THE SENATE

Bill passed:

Court — Increase from 18 to 19 number of judges in San Diego Municipal Court; AB 170, Mills, D-San Diego.

Resolutions adopted:

Vets — Asks Congress to enact legislation that would make increased federal funds for veterans' care available; AJR 22, Young, D-Napa.

Bicentennial — Proclaims 1969 as California's Bicentennial Year and declares intent to give consideration in 1967 to creation of California Bicentennial Celebrations Commission; ACR 52, Badham, R-Newport Beach.

Novato Collision Injures Sonoman

A Sebastopol man was seriously injured when the car in which he was riding was hit from the side by another car while making a turn on Highway 101 about a mile north of the Novato city limits at 10:15 p.m. yesterday.

James Ebert, 47, was reported in poor condition today with back injuries and multiple cuts and bruises in Marin General Hospital.

The California Highway Patrol said George J. Pick, 47, of San Francisco was making a left turn into the Lodge motel when his car was hit by a southbound car driven by Terry A. Aquilino, 21, of 5 Jordan Avenue, San Anselmo. Ebert was riding with Pick.

Pick was cited by the highway patrol for failing to yield the right of way.

The Chicago Black Hawks are the only National Hockey League team never to have won a regular season championship.

Traffic Tangle Started By Driver's Seizure

A man who reportedly suffered a seizure as he drove his car in commute-hour traffic in downtown San Rafael today caused a five-car accident which injured two women.

Patrolman Phillip Green of San Rafael police said a car driven by Robert Conrad, 42, of 1615 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, smashed into the rear one driven by Mrs. Jean Day of 120 Coleman Drive, San Rafael, as it stopped for lights at Third Street and Lincoln Avenue.

Conrad's car then careened across the intersection into Third Street, hit the rear of another car, and set up a chain reaction which damaged two other vehicles.

Conrad, who was dragged from his car as the engine caught fire, was taken to Napa State Hospital where he had been undergoing treatment.

Mrs. Day and her mother-in-law, Ruth Day of 1135 Grand Avenue, San Rafael, who was taken to Marin General Hospital suffering from bruises. Mrs. Ruth Day had a chest injury.

Jean Day is librarian of the Independent-Journal.

School Fixup Bids Ordered In Larkspur

Larkspur School District trustees last night authorized calling for bids on summertime construction and repair projects for all schools in the district, estimated to cost $27,200.

The projects include painting Henry C. Hall School, underground sprinkling systems at San Clemente and Larkspur. Corte Madera schools repair of blacktop at Hall school, and turfing and underground sprinkling system at Neil Cummins school.

Larkspur school district trustees also:

1. Accepted the resignations of three teachers: Mrs. Vivian S. Richards, second grade at Neil Cummins; Priscilla Blinco, kindergarten at San Clemente, and Chris Pickett, fourth grade at San Clemente.
2. Heard reports on the district's evening and Saturday school library program, field trips by fifth and sixth grade classes, and transistion of a student from a sixth grade classroom to the multi-classroom seventh and eighth grade program.
3. Agreed they should not pay more than $900 for an annual audit and instructed Supt. Milton S. Cohen to seek a firm that will do the job for that amount or less.

Students Vote To Cut Anti-Liquor Rule

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The coeds at Rice University's Brown College have approved by a two-thirds majority a referendum which would permit alcoholic beverages in their rooms on a trial basis next fall.

Students at the men's colleges already are allowed such privileges. The other university college with women students decided to leave the antiliquor rule stand.

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

TODAY'S EDITORIAL:

Storer Better Choice For Democratic Nomination

Two Marin residents are battling for the Democratic nomination for Congress in the First District (Marin to Del Norte), and for the right to oppose incumbent Congressman Don H. Clausen, R-Del Norte, in November.

The two are Thomas T. Storer of Point Reyes Station, a lawyer and county supervisor; and Phillip Drath, San Rafael contractor and long-time worker for peace and civil rights.

We believe Supervisor Storer deserves the Democratic nomination because, in our opinion, he represents a broader cross section of Democratic voters.

While some of Storer's views may be liberal in the vernacular sense of tagging the "liberal" label on those who want to help unfortunates back to their feet, his views have not been the peace-at-any-price variety that come from self-styled liberals.

There is no doubt that Drath is a sincere man. His aversion to war and his dedication to the principle that all men should be treated equally have won the admiration of civil rights organizations and others throughout the country. At the same time, his candidacy has undoubtedly drawn the backing of the "peace-niks," the peace extremists who are more idealistic than practical and tend to value their immediate goals more highly than national security. Some of his financial support may be coming from peacenik elements of a dubious nature.

It must be remembered that peace advocacy is not the exclusive property of any one candidate.

Storer, too, has been advocating peace, and has voiced criticism of some of the policies of the Democratic Administration. He calls for holding our present military positions and redoubling efforts for negotiation by offering the Viet Cong full voice at the peace table.

Having been a Marine platoon leader in Korea, twice wounded in action, Storer certainly has no love for either war or Communists. But he believes that even Communists should be given a voice in peace talks and in a freely elected government, if that can bring peace to Viet Nam.

If a Democrat were to be successful in unseating Congressman Clausen in November, we believe Supervisor Storer would be the best to represent us in Washington. He would provide better representation for ALL the people of the First District.

Fuchsias—Suited To Marin

Few flowering plants are better adapted to our Northern California coastal climate than that lover of fog and semi-shade, the fuchsia.

They are at the height of another blooming season now. These bell-like flowers, with their curling sepals and long stamens, are as beautiful as they are many colored.

They are a quiet, gentle type plant. Unaggressive, happy to live in the shade of more vigorous growers. Yet, prolific and continuing to bloom until the dark days of winter overtake us. One of Marin's loveliest flowers.

On Wharf Pilings

Almost anywhere there is an ebb and flow of ocean tides, barnacles grow on rocks, anchors, ship hulls and wharf pilings. Most are characterized by lime plated shells.

Attached in one spot all its adult life, the barnacle survives by kicking food into its mouth with its feet. There are several distinct species of various shapes and habits. One lives as a parasite inside the body of certain crabs.

Virtually surrounded by ocean and bay waters, Marin County has its share of these strange creatures in their little calcium houses.

MARIN POLITICAL VIEWS

Republicans Not Bitterly Split As They Were On Barry, Rocky

By WAT TAKESHITA

Takeshita

But the split this year is not nearly as bad as the Rockefeller-Goldwater schism that left irreparable scars in 1964.

Whoever is nominated in June (Reagan or Christopher), the Republicans will probably be able to close ranks and get behind their nominee instead of allowing bitterness of the primary battle to carry over into November.

THAT IS HOW Marin's GOP boss, Gerald Misner, sizes up the situation this year. "The guys are not at each others throats this year. They're pretty friendly. I'm sure we can close ranks for the final."

For example, you find one member of the Marin Republican Council heading up the Reagan campaign. A fellow member of the same MRC heads up the Christopher campaign. And they manage to maintain friendly relations.

FRED ULLNER, the former Larkspur TV shop owner who backed Barry Goldwater in 1964 and then switched from Ronald Reagan to William Penn Patrick of Tiburon this year, may pull another switch. He's just about given up his television business and may go full time into politics — not as a candidate but as manager or aide in other campaigns.

For the moment, he seems to be engrossed in drumming up support for Patrick, the San Rafael cosmetics manufacturer, who is getting nowhere in his bid for the governorship.

Ullner's switch from Reagan to Patrick brought a telegram from Goldwater, which winds up with: "Frankly, I think you are making a mistake but you are the master of your own judgment."

The fact that Patrick is still in there pitching, when all polls show he has no chance for the GOP nomination, indicates that Patrick may have future political ambitions. Maybe for United States Senator in 1968?

LEONARD BJORKLUND of Sausalito, who is trying to unseat Dist. Atty. Bruce Bales, went campaigning the other night, and it's a safe bet he didn't pick up a single solitary vote.

Cystic Fibrosis Workers Grateful

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The members of the Marin Chapter of the National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation wish to express their thanks to all who attended their "Spring Swing" on Saturday, May 7, at the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley.

The success of the dance was due to the co-operation of the committees and the generosity of the Marin County and San Francisco merchants for their donations.

Proceeds from the dance will go for research and care centers of cystic fibrosis patients.

Tax Increase Questionable

Editor, Independent-Journal:

As one of many, many, property owners, I'd like to protest our serious and very questionable increase in taxes!

The trainees trained in our assessor's office seem to know all the answers (none satisfactory to property owners) and what was the cost to us taxpayers of the three-day question and answer period at the Fairfax Women's Club?

I have a $2,200 improvement charge since my last assessed valuation and I haven't so much as driven a nail in the three room house (plus bath) that I built a few years ago to retire in! . . .

San Anselmo felt they could get along without a city manager. I feel we could get along without one in Fairfax, and save several thousand dollars in the process!

Unification of all services and eliminate duplication of administration.

We pay for two police departments and two fire departments and receive service from one (county or city). The same goes for our schools! And the duplication of administration found there. Fairfax schools are planning to ask for more money. I'd rather see them get it, but they haven't a chance after (Assessor) Broemmel gets through with us . . .

If I insured my house for its assessed value, my insurance company would cancel my insurance, fearing no doubt that I had arson in mind!

The Fast Driver Is Pinned Down

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Now I can laugh, because what I have been saying for years about what causes most traffic accidents, namely SPEED and having everybody say "No, it is the slow driver."

Well in the U. S. News and World Report this week (May 23) there is an article you should all read.

After a lengthy study and tests made by the Stanford Research Institute, they have come up with the real causes of accidents.

1. The driver who drives too fast. Speed limits should be reduced and enforced.
2. Restrictions in licensing as to age, etc.
3. Less freeways and safer highways.
4. Safer cars.
5. Convenient mass transit.

It is an expensive program and people won't pay any attention, but it is a far better way to spend money than our taxes are being spent now.

They say there will be 220,000 traffic deaths per year by 1985 otherwise.

Musicians Condemn Attack On Orchestra

Editor, Independent-Journal:

In his letter, the professor made several needless attacks on the orchestra, degrading the manner in which the music at our last concert was played and maligning the members. He termed the music "hogwash" and the "last word in sour delivery." He also referred to us as "poorly trained children" and "bad material."

This attack was apparently to bring attention to the current retraction of music from the school curriculm. May I say that this issue has in no way affected us for we continue to attend school orchestra daily and Marin Youth Orchestra for three hours after school on Mondays during the concert season.

We feel that the professor's attack on our group as an illustration for a cause which has in no way affected us was entirely unwarranted.

Prof. Kolitsch Was Very Unfair

Editor, Independent-Journal:

On May 11 the Independent-Journal published a letter by Prof. Vlado Kolitsch condemning the Marin Youth Orchestra on its performance of May 1. . .

Endless credit must be given to Mr. Hugo Rinaldi for the innumerable things he is doing for the group and the community and perhaps more so to the students who attend long and tiring rehearsals weekly and do try to do their best. They need help in the way of encouragement and inspiration and not letters the likes of which Prof. Kolitsch had published. I know Prof. Kolitsch to have an excellent musical background and I believe him to be a demanding teacher and certainly intelligent enough to realize that a student will always do more and try harder with encouragement than condemnation.

Futhermore I resent the caption 'Why Waste Money On Youth Symphony'. Can anyone truly make such a statement in seriousness? It is my feeling that we are not doing enough for our children. We should stimulate whatever cultural outlets our coming generation may be even slightly interested in. If such aid and interest do nothing more than keep our youth off the streets we have already accomplished something.

In closing I feel that a man of Prof. Kolitschs calibre was very unfair and I truly believe he did not mean all he said and now he will come forward and make amends to Mr. Rinaldi and his most worthy young performers.

FORMER FOOTBALL coach Fritz Crisler—one of the true gridiron greats—tells of one husky fullback on his squad who carried sheer stupidity to hitherto unreached heights. In exasperation, one afternoon Crisler held up a football and groaned, "Forget that diagram I just drew, Butch. Let's go back to basics. Now what I'm showing you here is a FOOTBALL." "Wait a minute, Coach," begged the fullback. "Not so fast!"

Your letter of rejection was so tenderly phrased, so eloquent, so heartbreaking that all I had to do was enclose a copy in her last pay envelope. Not only is she vanished from the scene—she thanked me, with tears in her eyes, for firing her."

Buddhist Atrocities, Power Plot Reported By U.S. Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — The one hope for stability in South Viet Nam at this time seems to be iron-fisted toughness, not democracy, and it may long remain that way.

The American ideal of the good society in Viet Nam would be a democratic one. But events over the years—particularly recent events — throw doubt on the readiness of the Vietnamese for democracy. They never had it.

ONE GOVERNMENT after another was swept out by plots, ambitions, and protests, especially by Buddhist leaders, until the present group of generals took over under Premier Nguyen Cao Ky.

He promised elections and a constitutional government within a year. This didn't satisfy the Buddhist leaders. In trying to throw him out, they revolted at Da Nang.

This revolt, judging from what happened, was poorly planned and badly organized. Although Buddhists make up 80 per cent of the population, in the showdown they lacked mass support. Ky used the army to crush the uprising.

UNREST continues in the northern city of Hue, and, to some extent, among Buddhists in the capital of Saigon. But Ky, according to reports from Saigon, is confident he can squelch this kind of opposition.

Richard Critchfield of the Washington Evening Star, writing out of Viet Nam, has presented a disgusting picture of the Da Nang Buddhists who wanted a hand, and no doubt eventual control, in running the government.

He describes them as a bunch of callous, cold-blooded, merciless opportunists who exploited the dead and the wounded for their own ends. He writes of their "incredible cynicism toward human life."

His story—of how the Buddhists enticed newsmen into their pagoda and then tried to use them as hostages against attack by Ky's troops—reveals how the Buddhist rebels lost their zeal for revolt under fire.

FOR DAYS, he said, Buddhists had shot into neighborhood houses and "then collected wounded and killed and paraded them before the press as victims of government repression."

Yet, these are the same men who have been demanding constitutional government. Their performance was irresponsibel and cruel. tI is still not clear whether they are in league with the North Vietnamese Communists.

If Ky goes through with his plans for a democratic government, the Buddhist leaders will want a large and no doubt dominant role in it. But it hardly seems possible after the disclosures at Da Nang that they want a democratic government or any kind of government—but a Buddhist dictatorship.

Therefore, it should not be surprising if Ky and the generals refuse to let the elections occur within a year or for some time afterward because the Buddhist leaders project a vision not of order but of anarchy.

One thing is sure: the U.S. war against the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese Communists cannot continue if South Viet Nam disintegrates much further into the kind of brainless disorder the Buddhist leaders sought.

If there is a connection between the Buddhist leaders and the Communists it may begin to show up if Ky restores stability to South Viet Nam. So long as the Buddhists revolted, the Reds could hope for internal collapse.

THAT WOULD have saved them a need for a total showdown with the United States. If there's no internal collapse, they will have to rely on war.

Atomic Admiral Has Congress Warning

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Adm. Hyman Rickover played a leading role in the House Armed Services Committee's potentially far-reaching decision to assert Congress' constitutional authority in defense policy-making.

The "father of the nuclear submarine" inspired legislators to take this challenging stand by sternly admonishing them for "allowing the executive departments to take over responsibilities and powers belonging to Congress."

Testifying in support of building an all-nuclear Navy, Rickover bluntly warned the committee that "unless Congress plays its proper role, not only in defense but in all other aspects of national life, it will not be good for the U. S."

THE BRILLIANT military veteran and atomic scientist, who was twice saved by Congress from "forced" retirement by Navy brass, reminded the lawmakers that, "had it not been for Congress, we would not have a nuclear submarine fleet today."

"If Congress doesn't assert itself," he continued, "there will be no nuclear surface fleet, as Defense officials have consistently blocked and are opposed to the Navy's proposals to put nuclear propulsion in all future ships."

Rickover's fervent plea so impressed the 26 committeemen that they not only voted funds to start three nuclear-powered warships rejected by Secretary Robert J. McNamara, but also to revise the National Security Act to require the Defense secretary to consult with Congress before making major decisions.

REP. L. MENDEL Rivers, D.-S. C., chairman, was directed to lay before every member of the House a complete transcript of Admiral Rickover's unpublished strictures on the "role of Congress." Highlights of his unorthodox comments:

"In recent years . . . the executive departments . . . have taken over functions which belong implicitly to Congress under the Constitution. Apparently, the idea now is that the executive departments will make the decisions and then tell Congress what funds they need.

". . . Should Congress modify a request of the executive, that modification will frequently not be carried out . . . saying that an executive agency has—but Congress does not have—the competence to judge these matters. In other words: 'Mother knows best.'

"But the members of Congress . . . are the only ones other than the President and Vice President who are required to run for office every two or six years, and it is for this reason that—speaking as a citizen—I hope this committee will begin to assert the right it derives from the people it represents and from the Constitution."

THE COMMITTEE'S strategy already has produced significant results. Many members of both parties have phoned or written Chairman Rivers pledging their backing of the move to require the Defense secretary to consult Congress on major policy matters.

Admiral Rickover, head of the Division of Naval Reactors, is also doing some very frank talking to contractors who decline military orders because of booming civilian business.

With characteristic vigor, he is warning them that, if they don't undertake to produce vital parts needed for nuclear submarines, the Navy will have no alternative but to invoke the 1950 Defense Production Act, which empowers the government to require firms to accept defense contracts.

Icicles On Monkey Puzzle Tree; New Dancers Dress Differently

We received a telephone call the other morning from a woman who lives on the mountain reporting, "I have icicles on my monkey puzzle tree."

They are about one-half inch long, she said, and melting fast. It was a cold, foggy morning and we believed our correspondent.

Pressing her for further information, she said the ice formations were just on one side of the long-limbed tree and so far none had dropped. "This is the first day I've seen them," she added.

LAST SATURDAY we attended our first rock 'n roll concert which was held at the Wobbly Rock Restaurant in Muir Beach.

The way it works is this: The band—the Big Brother and the Holding Company — played "Gertrude's Garden" with a strong beat. People danced, never touching each other, sometimes on grass, sometimes on cement, sometimes on sand.

Concert goers wear a different type of dress than the businessman. Several persons wore mod trousers with flared bell bottoms, one man was barefooted and had tattooed feet and there were several persons with head bands, one being an American flag.

"Oh yes," she replied, "but, you see, I don't even vote in this county."

WE HEARD Staten Webster speak the other night at the Sausalito School Board meeting on inter-personal relations, a study he has been working on since last fall with pupils, teachers, parents.

He is a special person who believes that students should learn something about understandings among peoples along with how to work fractions.

He praised the Sausalito district for its desegregation action of last year and said the district is 10 light years ahead of what some people are doing.

He spoke to the fact that 75 youngsters were questioned about the program and that this is something that we do too little of in education. He said there is no reason why a pupil should not be able to comment on his feelings about studies to a teacher.

OTHER THINGS that happened that night strengthen our feelings toward democracy:

First of all, there was a good crowd, a vocal crowd.

Several teachers, those too often silent people whom we think are doing a tremendous job in a not-perfect world, spoke out their feelings on different subjects. Teacher Adele Larson told the board "what he (Webster) did can't be measured. He opened doors."

Alan Bonapart wrote that a portion of the committee of 100 which worked for several months to turn out a tremendous building study report, wishes to continue to work in some way with the district.

It's good to live in a world which is changing with people who know how to change with it. Why think 1918 when this is 1966?

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

Justus Craemer's Loss Is Felt; Gnoss, McInnis Favored

Again, sad news on the broadcast this Wednesday noon. Justus F. Craemer has passed away. Providence was kind. He simply left us quietly in his sleep. We were friends for many years although we met infrequently. Justus Craemer was really and truly a leader, but this would never have occurred to him.

FUSSELMAN

He quietly moved along from duty to duty, applying that fine mind of his to the job at hand. He had the most remarkable memory of anyone I have ever known.

When his lovely daughter passed away a few years ago, the outpouring of concern and affection was so evident by the scores of friends who came from all parts of the state to express their respect and sympathy for him and his family. Mrs. Craemer and the family can be warmly proud of their dear one, for whom it most certainly can be said: "Well done, thou good and faithful one." We have lost a friend, but his time with us helped to make this a better place, indeed.

FOR MANY YEARS I have believed that supervisors should be elected at large but be required to file from the district in which they lived. This could be arranged by simple legislation. We all are affected by the votes of the individual supervisors whether they live in our particular district or not.

This is why city councils, I believe, are so responsive to the needs of their community. They are elected at large.

This year we have a case in point. Supervisors are to be elected in both the First and Fifth Districts. I have known and worked with three of the candidates for many years.

William A. Gnoss, in the Fifth District (Novato area) is an experienced, hard-working supervisor. Over the years we have voted alike and have been opposed to each other at various times. He has been a faithful worker for his district —doggedly faithful, I tell you.

The important thing, as I see it at this time, particularly to his district and the whole county, is the need for experience on the board. We will all benefit by his election. And Bill deserves it for his years of service. Dr. William F. Upton, in the First District, has my most sincere respect. He has done an excellent job as a planning commissioner.

However, I honestly believe, with things as they are on the board, it is imperative that broader experience be available—right now—and that we not have to wait for a term of settling into the harness. There is hardly a single phase of human existence that doesn't come before the board of supervisors for consideration and adjudication. This is not the time for a specialist in any one field.

I FIRST KNEW John F. McInnis some 20 years ago when he appeared before the board as spokesman for the people in his district on assessment adjustments. Since then I have watched him grow in experience as a councilman and mayor of his city during the period of tremendous growth the county has experienced. He has become highly trained because of this. Like Bill Gnoss, John is a faithful hard-working public servant. During his tenure in office, he could be seen most any time hurrying from his office to the City Hall to attend personally to some city business.

Again, the county needs men with training and experience at this crucial time.

Welfare Fraud Case Ordered Dismissed

Case of Gwendolyn Marjorie Vasco, 32, charged with misdemeanor fraud from Marin County, was dismissed in Marin Municipal Court yesterday by Judge Leonard A. Thomas.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Gary Thomas said restitution has been made and doubt existed whether Mrs. Vasco intended fraud. The defendant, of Bermuda Palms in San Rafael, was accused of receiving $200 monthly support for three years, but applying for welfare funds on the representation that she received only occasional contributions of child support from her former husband, Carlos Talmentez of San Rafael.

Clergyman Vows He Won't Retire

DETROIT (AP) — The Rev. Charles E. Coughlin, famed radio priest of the 1930s, used a news conference yesterday in connection with his 50th anniversary as a priest to announce he has no plans to retire.

Father Coughlin, pastor of the widely known Shrine of the Little Flower Parish in suburban Royal Oak, said his future would be discussed soon with his superior, Archbishop John F. Dearden of Detroit.

There had been reports that the controversial former radio priest might use the occasion of his golden jubilee in the priesthood to announce retirement.

Grad Rites Set For 49 Students

They will graduate in services at Blessed Sacrament Church, 160 North San Pedro Road, Santa Venetia, at 7 p.m. on June 11.

Rev. Raymond Maher, pastor, will give the address.

Draft-Proofing For Him Means Twenty-Four Years In College

WASHINGTON—It's probably a very unfair thing to say, but many students are staying in college these days to avoid the draft. No one will admit it, but these students will take any subject if it means staying out of the army.

I DISCOVERED this the other day when I was on the campus of one of our larger universities and started talking to a student in the cafeteria.

He said, "I think it's very important that America have educated students and while I'm willing to do my service, as well as the next person, I think I will be able to serve my country better if I have a well-rounded education."

"But when did you start going to college?"

"In 1942, the semester right after Pearl Harbor. I felt we were going to be in a long war with the Japanese and there would be a big demand for college graduates. So I got a deferment and studied premedicine. But after four years I switched my major to agriculture because I decided what America would really need was farmers. I studied farming for three years, and then switched to law because I heard there was a shortage of lawyers in the armed forces.

"But apparently I was misinformed, so I then decided to study chemical engineering."

"AND ALL this time you were deferred from military service?"

"Yes. I would have gone any time they asked me, but my draft board was very kind about it, especially when I explained my only reason for staying in college was to become a teacher. Of course, when Korea started I was in a bad position, so I went to see my faculty advisor and he told me I ought to study to become a veterinarian, as the army was short on veterinarians and they would defer me for that. I studied to be a veterinarian during most of the Korean war but then the army announced it had too many veterinarians, so I switched to architecture."

"YOU'VE REALLY had a well-rounded education," I said.

"I think I've gotten a lot out of school," he said, "though sometimes my father complains about my tuition. In the last 26 years it's cost him $67,405 in tuition fees, not counting what it costs at my fraternity house and to take girls out. But my mother says she would still rather have me in college than in the service."

"And she's right," I said. "What are you taking now?"

"Well, I seem to have taken every course in the school, so I'm taking pre-med again."

"Have you ever gotten a degree in anything?"

"OH, NO. I've thought about it many times but if I got one I think it would take the fun out of college. Besides, if I got a degree my draft board might not let me stay in school."

"Have you ever toyed with the idea of just giving up school some time and taking a job."

"I have once in awhile. But I don't want people to say I'm a drop-out."

"You've got a point. How much longer do you think you'll go to school?"

"I'M NOT SURE. I was about to get out a few years ago, but then Viet Nam came along, and my mother said I should stay, at least until I finished my education."

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

A 100-foot redwood tree, pronounced dead by the county agricultural commissioner, was cut down on the west side of the county courthouse in San Rafael.

The San Rafael Board of Education boosted the minimum pay for elementary school teachers from $3,780 to $4,002 and the maximum from $6,772 to $6,858 per year.

Del Monte Fishing Co., organized by two Mill Valley men and five other investors, made its first catch, a 36-ton whale off Point Reyes.

Wild Horse Valley offers:

- a homesite in a parklike setting—
- a clubhouse for the exclusive use of Wild Horse Valley residents, their guests and club members—
- swimming and wading pools—
- one hundred thirty eight magnificent acres filled with riding and walking trails, wild life and botanical treasures, all for the exclusive use of Wild Horse Valley residents, their guests and club members—
- financing plans to make it possible for 97 families to live in a manner they could only have dreamed of before—
- assurance by deed restriction that this last frontier will forever be held in its present state—as a private park—for the exclusive use of residents and club members.

With land costs rising to astronomical figures—with land development costs reaching impossible highs, it seems very likely that Wild Horse Valley will be not only the first, but the last such development possible in Marin County.

PROBLEMS OF LEISURE

Jobless Youth Have Worse Time Than The Involuntarily Retired

(Second of three articles)
By HARRY FERGUSON

WASHINGTON (UPI) —A fancy, sociological phrase for being out of a job is "enforced leisure." It is the thing that plagues the teen-agers who drop out of school and, too late, learn that the world is a brutal place for persons who have not prepared themselves properly.

There are about 17 million Americans between the ages of 15 and 19. Actual figures are hard to come by but the U.S. Children's Bureau estimates that more than a million teen-agers—13 through 19—are arrested each year and that does not include minor traffic violations. Last year a forcible rape was committed every 26 minutes in the United States and 40 per cent of the persons arrested were under 21 years of age. Larceny was committed every 45 seconds and about half of the offenders were in the age range of 15 to 19.

The enforced leisure of the young is about the toughest problem facing the men responsible for President Johnson's war on poverty. They are bucking what appears to be an irresistible tide. As far back as 1962, they say, 29 per cent of the children who dropped out of high school could not find jobs. The hard fact is that the American economy will have to provide 21 million more jobs in the coming decade to take care of the teen-agers coming into the labor market.

There is a surge from rural to urban areas. In 1960 two out of three youths were living in cities. By 1970 it is projected that three out of four will be city dwellers, a statistic that gives nightmares to police and other persons charged with fighting juvenile delinquency.

Too Much Leisure

Some over-indulgent parents create too much leisure for their children. They allow them to stay out of school, to ignore their homework and shower gifts upon them. A classic case cited by the Children's Bureau involved a teen-ager in Baltimore whose parents gave him a new convertible. He drove it down to an intersection where he noticed an old jalopy parked with the key in the ignition. He got out of his convertible, stole the jalopy and went for a joy ride.

There are, of course, millions of teen-agers who use their leisure time wisely, and one of the encouraging signs of the times is that once they get through high school most of them go all out to gain admission to a college. It is the high school drop-outs who cause the trouble and, as the Children's Bureau puts it, "If we can get a kid past the age of 15 without him becoming a delinquent we feel we are almost home free."

The United States is riding a wave of prosperity and it would seem logical to assume that the more jobs there are the less temptation there would be for kids to become delinquents. In fact, the reverse is true, not only in the United States but in every nation that collects crime statistics. Like West Germany.

"Germany has had full employment since 1954," says Richard Sturm of the Federal Ministry of Justice. "And yet juvenile delinquency has been unparalleled, too. A more highly developed society brings more temptations—more cars to steal, more self-service stores and more material things to long for."

Enforced Leisure

The federal government is fighting the problem of enforced leisure among the young on many fronts. Results in some areas have been encouraging, but the difficulty is that the number of kids increases faster than the money appropriated. And occasionally the program comes up against a stone wall of indifference and contempt among the teen-agers.

Some time ago the federal government started a youth career development center in Newark, N.J. The idea was to train teen-agers to become waiters and waitresses because the Newark newspapers were full of advertisements placed by restaurants sorely in need of help. Many restaurant owners telephoned promising to hire the graduates. Everything was working well until the time came to enroll the young people in the course.

"But we never got under way," said Joseph Viviani, an official of the center. "We simply couldn't get enough youngsters who wanted to be waiters. I'm afraid that sort of work isn't glamorous enough, and they would just as soon remain unemployed."

The center mamaged to find jobs for only 11 per cent of the youths who applied. Viviani thinks the rate would have been about 25 per cent except for the fact that he couldn't find kids interested in certain types of work.

A new phrase has come into our language since the smashing impact of enforced leisure on the teen-age population of the United States—"the obsolete young."

Prowler Flees As Girl Awakes

Corte Madera patrolmen found someone had entered the house through an unlocked kitchen window and left through the front door. The girl said it was a boy with long hair hanging down over his forehead.

Police said they have had a number of reports of prowlers in the area during the last three months.

Clausen Asks Law To Protect the Flag

Rep. Don H. Clausen, R-First District, Calif., has introduced a bill calling for prison sentences and fines for persons who desecrete the American flag.

Clausen said he became co-author of the bill, which is gaining support in Congress, after recent reports from Purdue University that a man "ripped apart, spat upon and stomped" an American flag during a campus speech. The bill was authored by Rep. Richard L. Roudebush, R-Indiana.

Old-Fashioned Garden Walk Planned By Sunny Hills Guild

AGAINST A BACKGROUND of roses, Mrs. Henry Bolcom Jr., Mrs. Willard Anderson and Mrs. Henry F. Zimmerman view the gardens of Mrs. Leland Stanford Lathrop atop Belvedere Island. The Lathrop home, designed by architect Albert Farr, was built in 1906. It is now being extensively remodeled. Many plants were brought from the New Zealand gardens at the 1915 Pan-American exposition. Outstanding is the 30 feet tall New Zealand ash, which bears a small red fruit in the Lathrop garden.

"Let's Take an Old-Fashioned Walk" could well be the theme of the Pomander Garden Walk, which will be a special feature of the Belvedere Sunny Hills guilds June tea from 2 to 4 p.m. Thursday.

Five of Belvedere's most beautiful gardens will be on view during the tea hours. Tea will be served at San Francisco Yacht Club, Belvedere, where members of the five guilds will display wares being prepared for the October Grape Festival.

The garden walk is sponsored by Belvedere Guild No. 4, under the chairmanship of Mrs. William Davis and Mrs. Burton Jacobson, who are also reservations chairmen. Guests who wish to see the gardens may come to the yacht club and be escorted by car to and from the walking-tour area by guild No. 4 members.

"A VERY SMALL fee is being requested for the Pomander garden walk," says Mrs. Clair Fishell, publicity chairman for the five Belvedere guilds, "with this donation and proceeds from the tea and sale of merchandise all allocated for the benefit of the Sunny Hills Home."

The area to be opened for this afternoon stroll consists of older gardens, adjacent to homes that were built at the turn of the century. From the well-tended gardens, breathtaking views of Racoon Strait, Belvedere Cove and San Francisco Bay can be seen.

THE ARDENT GARDENERS along Pomander Walk who will open their garden gates to guests are Mrs. Raymund Millzner, Mrs. Walter Simi, Mrs. A. Donham Owen, Mrs. Leland Stanford Lathrop and Mrs. Herbert Spilman.

The Spilman garden features specimen plants and bonsais in tubs and pots. High spot of Mrs. Owen's landscaping is the gardened pool area. Mrs. Lathrop specialized in hanging fuchsias, and the Millzner and Simi gardens are noted for mature shrubs and trees which contrast with abundant plantings of early summer annuals.

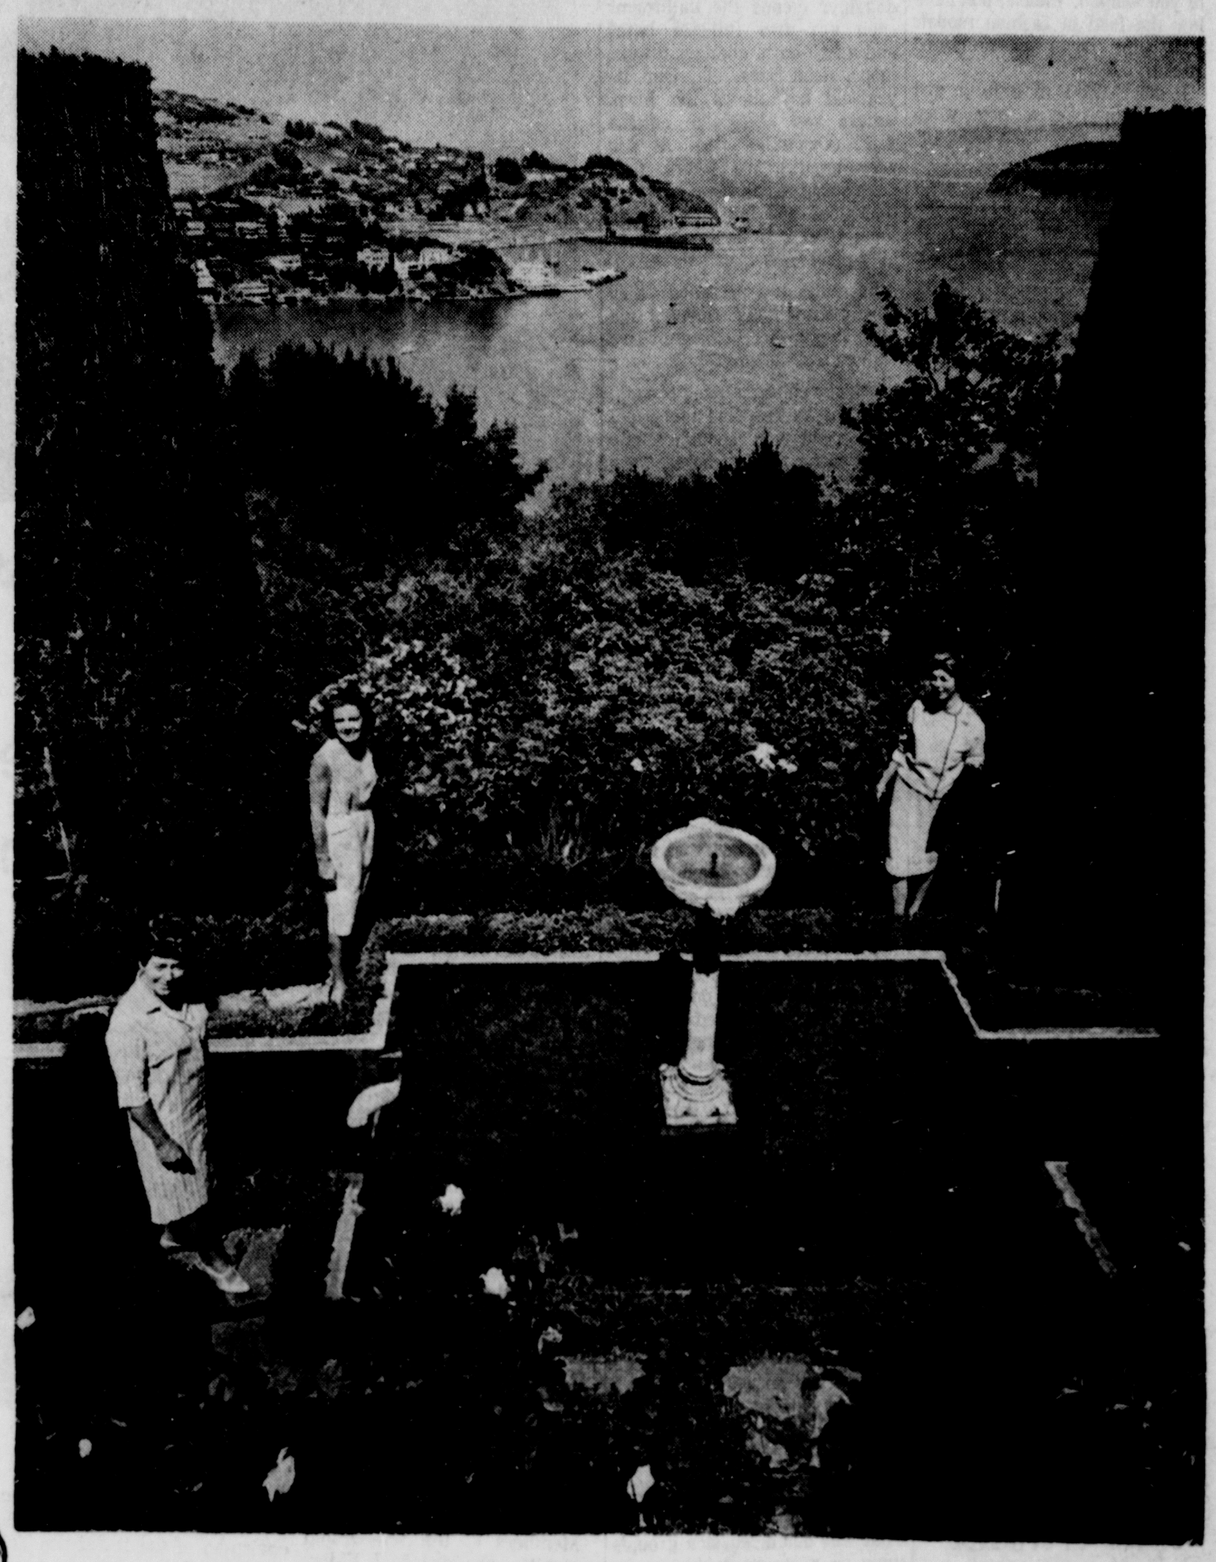
MRS. JOHN L. MOORE of Tiburon is tea chairman, with Mrs. M. C. S. Noble, assistant. Booth chairmen are Mrs. S. W. Totten, guild No. 1; Mrs. Rudolph Zimmerman, guild No. 2; Mrs. Mary Nythan, guild No. 3; Mrs. W. S. Johnstone, guild No. 4; Mrs. Henry Zimmerman, guild No. 5.

Honorary members of the guilds who will be hostesses are Mrs. Harry B. Allen, chairman, Miss Edith Nill, and Mesdames William Booth, Alexis Becker, Edward Brash, Edna Halloran and James Lewis. Mrs. Allen and Mrs. Halloran were co-founders in 1946 of the original Belvedere Guild with Mrs. Harry C. Duncan.



A FORMAL POOL with the fountain playing captures the interest of Mesdames Robert Rodden, J. L. Moore, and M. C. S. Noble, committee workers for the Belvedere garden walk. The terraced gardens of the A. Donham Owen home offer a superb bay view.

MRS. WILLIAM MAIN and Mrs. Henry M. Bolcom Jr. view the Herbert Spilman garden, and the slate-roofed English Tudor style house with its vines of cup of gold and wisteria. A rare espaliered apple tree bears bountiful fruit in the Spilman garden. A 40-year-old avocado tree also provides abundant flavorful fruit. It is such a rare species that no identification has as yet been possible.

ADMIRING THE long-established Millzner garden from the lower patio are Mrs. Thomas Clark and Mrs. William Davis, as Mrs. Raymund Millzner reaches over to pick a transveldt daisy. This Belvedere garden features large rhododendron, azalea and camellia shrubs, an 85-year-old dwarf cutleaf maple and a number of large old tree ferns and magnolia trees.

A SPECTACULAR VISTA of Belvedere Cove is seen from the Walter Simi garden, which will be included in the old-fashioned garden walk. Mrs. Simi points out features of the grounds to Mrs. Gerald Stratford and Mrs. Arthur Y. Dunn. The home was built in 1906 and the white hawthorne hedge dates from that time. The terraced garden offers secluded spots such as the grotto where a small statue of St. Francis is framed by fern and miniature plants.

HELEN HELP US!

Ray's Plea To The Girls— Don't Become Animated Sticks

DEAR HELEN:

Being a man, I make a plea to you women. Please, don't follow the lead of fashion models and slim down to animated sticks.

I don't want to date a girl that looks like a boy when she's going the other way (or my way either). I want her to be a little hippy, and she should keep her knees stiff so she can wiggle. A woman has no lovelier asset than a swinging walk. And nice curves.

I'm all for bulging if it's a healthy bulge and looks like it "belongs." Of course it takes exercise to keep the bulge from getting bulbous.

RAY

DEAR RAY:

Right! Skinny Minnies are for fashion magazines, not men—say the men . . . But bulge without bulk means exercise. That's why so many gals are taking to the paths on bicycles these days.

H

DEAR HELEN:

We have a large home and no outside help. In addition to ordinary chores, our 13-year-old daughter cleans the bathrooms each day—two full-size baths and a half-bath, changes towels, mops, deodorizes, etc. Our 12-year-old boy mows the lawn, waters and keeps the outside neat. (Our other two are still very small.) We figure they each spend a half-hour a day on their jobs and for this we pay them $2.50 a week to spend as they please, no questions asked.

Recently we learned they have opened bank accounts and are saving for college. This without our urging.

Are our children being brought up right as respects money? I have read you shouldn't pay children for family chores. Then I've read other places where $2.50 a week isn't enough allowance.

E. J. M.

DEAR E:

Stop reading and follow your mother instincts: you're doing a bang-up job of raising two fine youngsters, and I'm sure this applies to the two small ones also.

H

DEAR HELEN:

An answer to "Shorty" who seems miserable because he is five feet four inches, and wants to know what will make him grow. Nothing—if he's born to be short, but his attitude can make him stand tall.

My husband is also five feet four and though at one time it might have bothered him, it certainly has not hindered his over-all development. He was very active in high school and college — student government, sports, social life, band. He has always been extremely popular, and no one gave his lack of height a second thought. After all his feet do reach the ground.

Granted our friends used to call us the Lilliputian Lovers, but it was all in good fun. (I'm five feet one inch.)

Anyway, I just wanted to tell Shorty that no one is as concerned as he is. There are so very many ways to grow!

LILLIPUT — TWO

"Criminal Attacks on Women and What to do About Them": That was our discussion group's topic on a recent evening.

Driving home near midnight on a dark and grimy street, I saw headlights blinking behind me. The driver pulled alongside and motioned. I speeded up. He speeded up; all the while making what to me were "wild and depraved" signals. He shot out in front of me, beckoning, and parked by the side of the road. I stomped on the gas pedal, but even then he caught up with me. Finally, after eight blocks, I rolled down my window a notch, and this is why I'm writing my public apology to an unknown benefactor.

"Lady," he shouted, disgusted. "Your tail light's out!"

New Golf Captain Is Charter Member

Mrs. Jerry B. Evans has been elected to serve as captain of the Indian Valley Women's Golf Assn. for the remainder of this year. She is replacing Mrs. Phil Ogle, who will be moving to Hawaii with her husband.

A charter member of the Women's Golf Club, Elizabeth Evans, better known as Betsy, served on the original board for one and one-half years. She has served as rules chairman and publicity chairman and was co-captain from Jan. 1 of this year until being elected as captain.

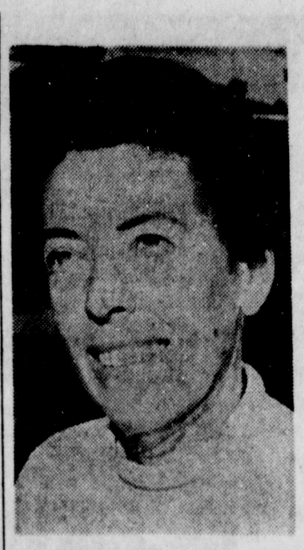
"My next love, after golf is working with the Novato Hospital Volunteer Service," Betsy said. She is also a charter member of that organization, and has served as secretary, publicity chairman of the Harvest Ball, hours and awards chairman, and in 1965 was vice president of orientation.

The busy new captain is also a member of the Novato Guild No. 1 of Sunny Hills and a member of the Marin County Women's Bowling Assn. From 1961 through 1963 she served on the board of directors of the Marin Branch of the American Cancer Society and also helps in the fund drives whenever possible.

Mrs. Evans and her husband, an insurance agent, came to Marin in January, 1957.

A native Californian, Betsy was graduated from Hoover High School in Glendale. She worked as a secretary in a steel company in Los Angeles before her marriage in 1943 to Jerry, who was then a pilot in the Air Force.

She also has worked as a secretary for her husband in the insurance company but says she is one of those old-fashioned people who prefer housework and even likes to make her own bread.



MRS. JERRY EVANS

"I also like to knit and sew but I don't find much time for them with outside activities and taking care of the home," Mrs. Evans said.

The Evanses also lived in Crescent City and Yuba City before coming to Novato.

Serving on the board with Betsy are Mesdames William May, co-captain; George Nolan, tournament chairman; Arthur Sears, assistant tournament chairman; Wallace Jones, handicap chairman; Daniel Bysom, assistant handicap; William Jonas, secretary; Thomas Washington, treasurer, Anthony Bacich, publicity; W. A. Sparrow, rules, and John Gaylord, parliamentarian.

FEATURED THIS SATURDAY

May is senior citizen month—a time for paying special attention to the contributions and to the needs of our more elderly Americans. One woman very much interested in that age group is Virginia Chioino of San Rafael, a former Miss California beauty queen. Her interest in the special needs of the aged has caused her to plan a new and unusual business venture. Tomorrow's I-J Marin Magazine tells you about it — and its founder.

Now it's Memorial Day, but it used to be Decoration Day. But it was still a day of solemnity — for the paying of respect to the dead, and particularly to the war dead. Old-timer W. T. Ortman recalls in tomorrow's I-J weekend supplement what Decoration Day was like in San Rafael at the turn of the century. It will bring back memories for pioneers. And it will introduce younger residents to another of Marin County's traditions.

MARIN FILM FARE

Different Western Now On Screen

Let the viewer beware! The choice this weekend between movies in the Marin area is likely to be a tough one!

RAFAEL THEATER

A stylish and original treatment plus a high-power cast make "Duel At Diablo" now playing, one of the most interesting and enjoyable Western bills in quite some time. It stars James Garner, Sidney Poitier, Bibi Anderson, Dennis Weaver and Bill Travers.

Along with hearty action, this film goes one level deeper than most of its kind and carefully probes characters and motivations.

The story involves a white woman who has lived with the Apaches, and who is returned to her husband only to be labeled a "squaw." Also intrinsic to the tale is a scout whose Indian wife was scalped—by white men.

The film in a stark, realistic way points out the greed, bloodlust and fear on both sides, Indian and white.

NOVATO THEATER

Now on screen is "The Singing Nun," with Debbie Reynolds in the title role. Miss Reynolds plays Soeur Sourire, a Belgian nun who seeks happiness only with God. The first hint of what's to come is at a community sing where the little nun, guitar in hand, finds herself singing alone to the acclaim of all present.

Agnes Moorehead plays a nun who is suspicious of liberalization and regards the guitar as a "material possession." Ricardo Montalban plays a priest, and Greer Garson is the Mother Superior. There are also performances by Ed Sullivan, Chad Everett and Katherine Ross.

Co-featured is "Zebra in The Kitchen."

NORTHGATE THEATER

Deborah Kerr plays the lead role of Anna radiantly, and Yul Brynner gives equal brilliance to the role of the strutting king. Rita Moreno is a lovely slave girl and Terry Saunders is a success as Lady Thiang.

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

Now playing is the poignant and emotional "A Patch of Blue," starring Sidney Poitier, Elizabeth Hartman and Academy Award Winner Shelley Winters.

The story: a blind girl (Miss Hartman) who has never been to school and who is horribly mistreated by her sluttish mother (Miss Winters) meets a polher mother.

The theme here is one of racial understanding, but it is ished, sophisticated young man (Poitier) who offers her hope, inspiration, warmth and a way out of the slavery imposed by touched on gingerly, and never overplayed.

Co-featured is "The Dot and the Line," which won an Oscar for Best Short Feature.

101 DRIVE-IN

Now showing is "The Spy Who Came In From The Cold," a critical look at sordid little people licensed to maim society under the auspices of freedom and democracy.

Richard Burton is the cynical espionage agent whose assignment is to destroy the head of East German Intelligence, assisted by Oskar Werner, Claire Bloom and Cyril Cusak.

TAMALPAIS THEATER

MOTOR MOVIES

This time, Elvis is an American movie star performing in the Near East. He also manages to get involved with Mary Ann Mobley, beautiful daughter of the king. As always, there's plenty of Elvis-style rock and roll songs.

Co-featured is "North by Northwest."

SEQUOIA THEATER

"A Thousand Clowns" is staying with us. Jason Robards has the featured role in this meaningful and poignant human comedy.

LARK THEATER

Co-featured is "Cat Ballou," a hilarious Western spoof for which Lee Marvin received the Best Actor Oscar. Jane Fonda also stars.

FAIRFAX THEATER

The gold-plated, eight-cylinder new comedy "The Great Race" is still roaring along. Jack Lemmon and Tony Curtis star.

Though modern in every modern sense, including striking color photography, the film displays a spontaneous humor that is reminiscent of the early antics of "Mr. Laurel and Mr. Hardy," to whom it is dedicated.

Two Sausalitans In Drama Test Finals

Dan Mason and Judy Van Hook, both of Sausalito, are finalists in the American Academy of Dramatic Arts scholarship competition.

The two will compete with other finalists Wednesday in San Francisco for 16 scholarships of $750 each for one year's study at the academy. The competition is sponsored by the academy and the American Broadcasting Company.

Pupils' Art Show

An art show will be open at Isabel Cook School, San Anselmo, Wednesday from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Work done in kindergarten through eighth grade will be on display, organized by Richard Judd and Mrs. William Vanderbilt.

Four-Lane Span Deck Plan Recommended By Engineer

Golden Gate Bridge District directors are wondering whether they should have a four-lane or a five-lane second deck on the gate span.

Clifford E. Paine, one of the original engineers of the Golden Gate Bridge, yesterday recommended the four-lane plan. Bridge directors accepted the Paine report but made no decision on the second deck.

The two plans represent the work of two engineering firms. Tudor Engineering Co. of San Francisco submitted a report last March, calling for a five-lane second deck for northbound cars.

Ammann and Whitney of New York submitted the other plan in 1964, calling for four lanes on the second deck, two lanes in each direction. This could be switched so that all four lanes would go in the direction of peak traffic.

Engineering consultant Paine recommended the Ammann and Whitney proposal. He said it would be more flexible. It would provide seven lanes of traffic in the peak direction (four lanes on second deck and three lanes on upper deck), whereas the Tudor plan would be limited to five lanes in one direction.

Vocalists Win Tam Music Competition

Winners in the third annual Shakespeare music contest held at Tamalpais High School are Randy Walker, Howard Terris, Francis Moitoza and Janna MacDonald, a vocal quartet, who sang Elizabethan Songs, one of which was written by student John Balmer.

Mrs. Mabel Pittenger directed the school's orchestra classes for her last such musical performance, since she will take an administrative post in September. Her classes will be taken over by Robert Greenwood, a former student.

New Stage Group To Hold Auditions

A new theater group, "Way Off Broadway," has been formed at Belrose Studios in San Rafael, and auditions for the group's first production will be Wednesday and Thursday at 8 p.m. at the studio.

The planned show, called "Round the World in 80 Minutes," was written by Rolf Forsberg and Allan Newman. The show will be produced by Lou Mason, Bruce Robinson and Patty Newman.

Veat Neal Paintings

Paintings by Veat Neal will be on display at the Lyrebird Bookshop in San Rafael tomorrow through June 15.

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

THIRD SECTION — SAN RAFAEL, CALIFORNIA, FRIDAY, MAY 27, 1966 — 21

Helpful Stephen Ward Receives Surprise From The President

Stephen Ward, 12-year-old carrier for the Independent-Journal, has been nominated for the Young American Award, four of which are given each year by the United States Department of Justice.

Stephen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Ward Jr. of 52 Rocca Drive, Fairfax, received a letter from the White House Wednesday, signed by presidential adviser James Moyers, telling him of the nomination.

Moyers also sent the "President's personal commendation," and a picture of President Johnson, for Stephen's rescue April 21 of an elderly Fairfax woman who had been trapped in her home for three days.

Mrs. Bertha Bryant of 94 Rocca Drive had fallen in her home three days before Stephen found her, and had not been able to get up. Stephen found her when he heard the faint cries for help as he was delivering her paper.

Stephen said Mrs. Bryant returned home last week, and he takes her mail to her each day as he delivers her paper to the door.

The attention of the White House was drawn to his heroism when a friend of the Wards, Mrs. W. F. Donner of San Francisco, wrote the President. She did not tell the Wards she had written, so the letter from the White House arrived as a surprise to the family.

Asked what he thought of it, Stephen said, "I think it's great!"

Cornerstone Rites Cost Marin $850

Wednesday morning's cornerstone ceremonies for the county's new Hall of Justice cost the county about $850, including $250 for the services of Leslie Hood for public relations.

Harold Stockstad, an officer of the Marin Council of Civic Affairs, said the county board of supervisors asked the MCCA to handle arrangements, and said the county would pay the organization's "out-of-pocket" expenses, up to $1,000.

Stokstad said the MCCA hired Hood to arrange for all the necessary materials and to write press releases for the ceremony. Other ceremony expenses, Stockstad said, included $200 for flags staking out the sites of future buildings, $100 for labor, $50 for photographs, and $30 for sound equipment. He said not all the bills have been received yet.

Novato Neighbors Eye Sewers, Wary Of City

Problems of malfunctioning septic tanks in the southwest Novato area could be solved by installing sewers and annexing into the Novato Sanitary District, but only if the people were not forced into the City of Novato at the same time.

That was the general feeling of the approximately 100 who attended a meeting last night at Hill Junior High School, said Charles Joseph, engineer-manager of Novato Sanitary District.

Owner of 120 parcels of land on Wilson Avenue, McClay Road, Hatch Road, Maestro Road, Ridge Road, Canyon Road and Indian Valley Road areas had been sent meeting notices, Joseph said.

Marin County health department tested 317 septic tanks in the area and found 67 of them malfunctioning, reported William Desmond, county director of sanitation.

Joseph outlined the steps for solving the problem by forming an assessment district within the sanitary district. He estimated cost at $1,200 per owner.

However, the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission has a policy against annexations to the sanitary district without annexation to the city.

A show of hands showed about three-fourths of those present last night were against annexing to the city, Joseph said.

School Aide Honored By Employees

Mrs. Viola (Andy) Anderson of 48 Villa Avenue, San Rafael, was honored at a special reception last night by the San Rafael School District Classified Employees Assn., at the district office.

Mrs. Anderson has worked in the district as a cafeteria employee for 13 years, and worked as a volunteer for the district for eight years before she became a paid employee, according to Mrs. Dorothy Grew, who helped organize the reception.

The employees association nominated Mrs. Anderson for the food service "employee of the year" award given by the California School Employees Assn. But when the local organization began to gather material for the nomination, Mrs. Anderson's accomplishments were so many that the local group decided to have a special reception in her honor, Mrs. Grew said.

Bound copies of all the letters written to recommend Mrs. Anderson for the state award were presented to her last night.

Mrs. Anderson is a honorary life member of the district Parent-Teacher Assn. and San Rafael Teachers Assn. Her record of community service includes work with the P-TA, Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, Red Cross, and Little League.

Mrs. Grew said Mrs. Anderson has also opened her home as a foster home for homeless children. "She has one child of her own, but every child in town seems to be hers," Mrs. Grew said.

Coed Arrested As Provider Of Marijuana

Patrolman Charles E. Newman said the girl already was on probation for use of marijuana and LSD. She was turned over to county juvenile authorities and was suspended from school, he reported.

The girl allegedly admitted providing the borbidden drug to the boy and girlfriend team arrested at the high school Monday, Newman said. They, in turn, reportedly sold it to their friends.

The officer said there appear to be more than 30 students at the high school using marijuana, and the investigation will run at least to the end of the school year.

Newman said the county sheriff's office has been called to join the investigation because he found the drug was being sold in high school buildings, as well as in the school parking lot. The school buildings are in county jurisdiction, being outside the Corte Madera town limits.

Three Injured In Sports Car

Three Petaluma youths were injured when their sports car went off the Petaluma-Point Reyes Road a mile south of Novato Boulevard at 2 a.m. today, ran through a fence, hit a power pole, and overturned.

Reported in satisfactory condition in Petaluma General Hospital were Patrick Lacey, 17, a passenger, with a fractured skull, and the driver Michael V. Whittles, 18, and his other passenger, Frank J. Oliveira, 18, both with multiple cuts and bruises.

NEIGHBORS DON'T HELP NOVATO CLEANUP DRIVE

A caravan of six cars drove through Novato yesterday honking horns and throwing out several thousand leaflets advertising the second annual championship Russian River Rodeo in Guerneville.

Undersheriff Joseph Cozzolino of Sonoma County, who is a candidate for Sheriff of Sonoma County, led the caravan.

Sgt. Maurice Lafferty of Novato police later called Cozzolino about it.

Cozzolino said he did not know what he could do about it.

"Come down and pick them up!" Lafferty told him. By today, no one has appeared to do so, however.

Unions Blast Convict Labor Use In Harvest

San Quentin inmates harvesting asparagus in the fields of San Joaquin County were caught in the line of fire today of a state union leader who called the scheme "an inexcusable perversion" of the work-furlough program.

"They were never intended to be used as a cheap labor pool for employers who have consistantly failed to offer wages adequate for the arduous nature of harvest work," declared Thomas L. Pitts, secretary-treasurer of the California Labor Federation, AFL-CIO.

About 90 inmates from San Quenim are among 500 state prisoners being used to relieve an alleged farm labor shortage in the asparagus fields.

Pitts said the federation has called on both the director of the State Department of Corrections and Gov. Edmund G. Brown to stop work by the convicts immediately.

"It is a ridiculous fiction to pretend that the mass use of 500 inmates from state prisons in brief peak season harvest work will contribute anything to their rehabilitation," Pitts declared.

Prisoners are being paid $1.50 an hour. Pitts' office in San Francisco today was unable to give comparative figures expected for civilian workers but said the rate for this particular work "is at a premium and should be in excess of $2 an hour."

Associate Warden James W. L. Park of San Quentin said today officials there were continuing to screen and review inmates for the program but had not been asked to supply any more than the 90 already in the fields.

Voydat Highest In State Exams

Mitchell L. Voydat, assistant superintendent of San Rafael city schools for the high school district, ranked first in a statewide examination of applicants for a post as a bureau chief with the State Department of Education, Sacramento.

Voydat said he and the next two ranking applicants will be interviewed before one is chosen as chief on the Bureau of Junior College General Education.

He said the interview date has not been set.

Marin Heart Association Elects Slate

Dr. Norman F. Carrigg was nominated last night to become president of the Marin County Heart Assn. for the 1966-67 year at an association dinner at Sabella's Restaurant in Alto. He ner.

A full slate of officers was proposed by the nominating committee, with Thomas Lathrop proposed for chairman of the board, replacing A. L. Nieri. Election is scheduled June 29.

For seats on the board of directors, the following were nominated:

Dr. James R. Dahl and Dr. William M. Haynes, one year; Gene Clair, Dr. A. Gerson Jacobs, Francis Jenkins and Lawrence I. Kramer Jr., two years, and Dr. Chad Calland, Dr. Conrad Ellner, Bruce Flanagan and Dr. Leo A. Wagner, three years.

Girl, 12, Injured As Autos Collide

A 12-year-old Mill Valley girl suffered a neck injury when the car in which she was a passenger was involved in a rear-end collision on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near La Cuesta Drive, Greenbrae, at 4 p.m. yesterday.

Karen Woods of 596 East Blithdale Avenue was treated for a neck strain at Marin General Hospital. The driver, Earl E. Hamlow, 22, of Rohnert Park, was stopped for traffic when a car driven by Vasco R. Barsanti, 57, of 15 Edna Court, Kentfield, ran into his, according to the California Highway Patrol.

True Artificial Heart Still A Future Dream?

Putting a permanent artificial heart in a human being may be 20 years in the future, Dr. Arthur Selzer told the Marin County Heart Assn. last night.

Selzer, director of the cardiopulmonary laboratory at Presbyterian Medical Center, San Francisco, said recent spectacular operations by Dr. Michael E. DeBakey in Texas did not really involve artificial hearts.

Only a part of the heart was replaced, he noted, and the intent was to use the device for only a few days. "It was wonderful gadgetry, but it wasn't an artificial heart," he said.

But the next big step forward in heart surgery will be the use of a full-fledged artificial heart or the transplanting of another human heart, the physician continued.

Selzer spoke on "What's New in Heart Surgery," but told a dinner audience of about 80 at Sabella's Restaurant, Alto, that there actually has been little new in the past five years, since the first artificial valves were placed in human hearts successfully.

He had one other comment on the DeBakey operations, in which both patients have died so far:

"It is now quite premature to say anything was accomplished. It was a temporary bypass to let the heart rest, but there is no scientific evidence that resting a heart does any good, especially in a chronic disease.

Operations, in general, do not cure a patient anyway, Selzer commented. Usually they just improve his condition, and often at a cost to the patient's health later.

He said earliest complete success with an artificial heart valve was an operation five years ago.

"That patient died recently," Selzer said. "We still have no idea how long these devices will last.

More Students Mexico-Bound

Amigos Anonymous today announced the names of four more Marin County students who will travel to Mexico with the group this summer, in addition to those announced earlier.

Dan Onorato of San Anselmo, a student at St. Patrick's Seminary, Susanna Reid of Belvedere, a student at the University of California, Berkeley, Mike Jacobs of San Rafael, a student at St. Mary's College and Gene Maidini of San Rafael, a student at the University of San Francisco, will be going with the group.

The students travel at their own expense to work on community development projects in Mexico.

Supervisors Minus Advice On Session

County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney said he was not consulted by County Administrator Alan Bruce or any of the board members.

State law bans closed meetings for any purpose other than hiring, firing or hearing charges against an employee.

Woman Hurt As Car Hits Tractor-Trailer

A Richmond woman was treated in Marin General Hospital for multiple bruises after her car ran into the rear of a tractor-trailer at the west end of the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge at 9:30 a.m. yesterday.

Anne Price, 42, was driving westbound when the tractor-trailer driven by Joe E. Turner, 47, of Fort Bragg cut in front of her and her car hit it, according to officer M. C. Fletcher of the California Highway Patrol. Turner was cited for making an unsafe lane change.

Sausalito Trustees Approve Questionnaire

The interpersonal relations committee of Sausalito School District last night approved in principle a questionnaire to be sent to about 20 per cent of the parents in the district asking for reaction to the school program since integration last September. A similar teacher questionnaire was also approved.

The committee also agreed the committee should be continued next fiscal year, and reported Dr. Rodman D. Starke, chairman.

HOW TO PLAY
WINNING BRIDGE

My friend ruffed the first diamond and drew two rounds of trumps. "Safety first," he burbled, not knowing that he had already thrown his grand slam away.

TOP HEART

This left South with two losing clubs in his hand and only one trump in the dummy.

Declarer had played the first tricks quickly, but he made up for this by staring at the dummy for several minutes at this stage.

HASTY PLAY

South can make the hand if he does his thinking early rather than late. He needs only normal breaks in hearts and trumps.

Declarer should ruff the first diamond with a high trump, lead a heart to dummy to ruff a second diamond with a high trump and should lead another heart to dummy to ruff a third diamond with a high trump

Net, South leads the seven of spades to dummy's eight and ruffs a fourth diamond.

THREE RUFFS

Declarer ruffs a club in dummy, ruffs a low heart with his last trump, ruffs another club in dummy and draws the last trump with the king of spades.

Dummy takes the last two tricks with the ace of hearts and the last heart, which is good by this time.

If South had looked ahead he would have seen that his idea of a safe line of play made the grand slam depend on getting a 3-3 break in hearts. The correct play works also when the hearts break 4-2.

DAILY QUESTION

You hold:

♠ K 8 6 2
♥ A K Q 5 3
♦ 9 6 5 3
♣ None.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two hearts.

The hand is too good and too unusual for an immediate jump to three spades. Show the hearts and jump to four spades at your net turn.

If partner gets the slam bee in his bonnet and can show a diamond control, you will be happy to cooperate with him.

ALMANAC

The moon is in its first quarter; the morning stars are Venus and Saturn; the evening star is Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1935, the Supreme Court decided unanimously that the National Industrial Recovery act was unconstitutional.

In 1942, Reinhard Heydrich, the "hangman of Czechoslovakia" and Adolf Hitler's henchman in that occupied nation, was murdered by patriots in Prague.

A Thought for the Day — Florentine political theorist Machiavelli said: "Fortune is the arbiter of half of our actions, but she still leaves us to direct the other half."

Housing Expert Says
PETALUMA GARDENS
is "Greatest" value

Dear Home Buyer:
Just as Virginia Russell was closing up the other day, a couple returned who had previously spent 3 hours earlier in the day closely inspecting our homes.

The man said, offhandedly and completely casual, "We'll take Model #1700 on Lot 63." Our new resident is a housing expert whose specialty is appraising property.

Not only that, but we have the happiest group of homeowners you've ever seen. They act like they all belong to the same club.

Which they do! Petaluma Gardens Homes Association. (Our pool will be ready this summer.)

Cordially,
